Vol. 1 Number 12

The "Welcome Mat" is ready and just waiting to be rolled out when our Association members set foot on Ireland's soil this coming June and July.

After years of dreaming, thinking and planning, our O Dochartaigh Family Reunion at Derry brings the cumulation of a dream shared by all of us. It is our hope that each one of you attending will experience a thrill of a lifetime and come home ever so richer because you have shared a part of your inheritance.

We would especially like to receive your comments and experiences that we might incorporate them in future newsletters. I know that many of you will not be traveling with us to the Reunion, but rest assured you certainly will be with us in spirit, and we'll be thinking of you.

Perhaps some of you will afford yourselves the opportunity to do a bit of root searching while in Ireland. Good luck! I cannot stress the importance of researching as much as you can at home first.

The Territorial Divisions of Ireland are as follows:

TOWNLAND: A very ancient unit and varies considerably in size; the smallest is under an acre and the largest runs into thousands of acres. The size is generally in inverse relation to the quality of the land. Small means good land and large means bad land.

PARISH: Ecclesiastical in origin, is made up of a number of Townlands. Parishes were based on the monasteries until the 12-13th centuries, when, under the influence of the Normans, the system was changed to diocesan. The administrative Parish, called the civil parish takes its name sometime from the Townland in which the church is situated, although some may take the name of the Church patron Saint. In the year 1901 there were 2,428 parishes in Ireland, ranging from land measuring 2 acres to 200,960 acres.

BARONY: A number of Parishes makes up a Barony. The name "Barony" is feudal in origin and military in purpose. The Barony was to supply its lord or Baron with a fixed number of men and supplies for the King's service. In the Gaelic system too, the clan territory was expected to provide a certain number of warriors and tribute the King's hosting.

COUNTY: Of all the territorial divisions, the County is the most modern. English settlers introduced the "shire" system from England. Twelve Counties date from the 13th century: Dublin, Kildare, Meath, Louth, Carlow, Kilkenny, Wexford, Waterford, Cork, Kerry, Limerick and Tipperary. These were the most fertile lands.

KINGDOMS: There were five principal Kingdoms in Ireland before the Norman invasion; Ulster, Munster, Leinster, Meath and Connaught. The Kingdom of Meath, with its capital at Tara was merged with Leinster and these old kingdoms now constitute the four Provinces of Ireland.

Circular Blockhouse

Everyone talks about castles, cathedrals and churches but rarely do we ever read or hear about the silent rock sentinels found on the seacoasts of Ireland. The Martello Towers were usually built on ledges above rocky beaches. They were almost egg in shape, with the narrow end pointing out to sea, to show less face to the enemy. The stones varied in size, some being at least 5 ft. long. The walls themselves measured 8 ft. thick. The entrance passage was at least 10 ft. from the ground. Access was by ropes or ladders. The apertures were very steeply sloped and they were traversed by a round iron bar to facilitate the hauling up of material and provisions. Generally the towers consisted of three chambers; ammunition and provisions stored on the ground floor, the central chamber for living quarters. The third contained a parapet containing the cannon on a pivot. The Martello Towers on the east coast were built in the early 19th century for protection. feared by the invasion of Napoleon.

Early Newsletter

Yes, you are right! Our quarterly newsletter was due for printing and mailing in June; however President Patrick has so much to tell you, that it was decided to mail out an "early bird" special in lieu of the June publication.

An American Tinker is what I imagine President Patrick will look like when he arrives in Dublin in April. Picture if you will, a 8'x'8'x20' carton (sea going) loaded with library materials, clothing, kitchen utensils, tables, etc. Not only that, he is shipping his van from New York.

After receiving the keys to the headquarters, he then proceeds from Dublin to "HOME" in the Inishowen.

A "Soft Life"

Our congratulations to our President Patrick upon the occasion of his retirement from daily drag of 8 to 5 (and then some) working hours. We wish you well and the grand health to enjoy whatever the future holds in store for you.

I hope his opening words at the International Reunion will be: "HOW SWEET IT IS!"

LONDONDERRY HISTORIC CITY

The name Derry is taken from the Irish "Doire" which means "a place of oaks". It was here on a firm, dry hill crowned with trees that St. Columba founded his first abbey in 546. On the plantation of Ulster, in the early 17th Century, the City of London provided men and money to build the walls 120 feet thick, forming a circuit of 5124 feet and the original city they enclosed. The city was thereafter named Londonderry, but it is popularly called Derry.

Derry retains nothing of its pre-seventeenth century character except some weaver ruins of a church in St. Columba's Park (20). The church was erected by Bishop Redmond O'Callaghan (1569-1601) on the site of earlier monastic buildings. The earliest buildings and fortifications of the city date from 1614, when the present street pattern was laid out and surrounded by stout walls, bastions and gates. The Longwalks, the butcheries, the early seventeenth century houses of strong timber construction and beams which were then filled with plaster and wattle, but nothing remains of these dwellings.

Stair

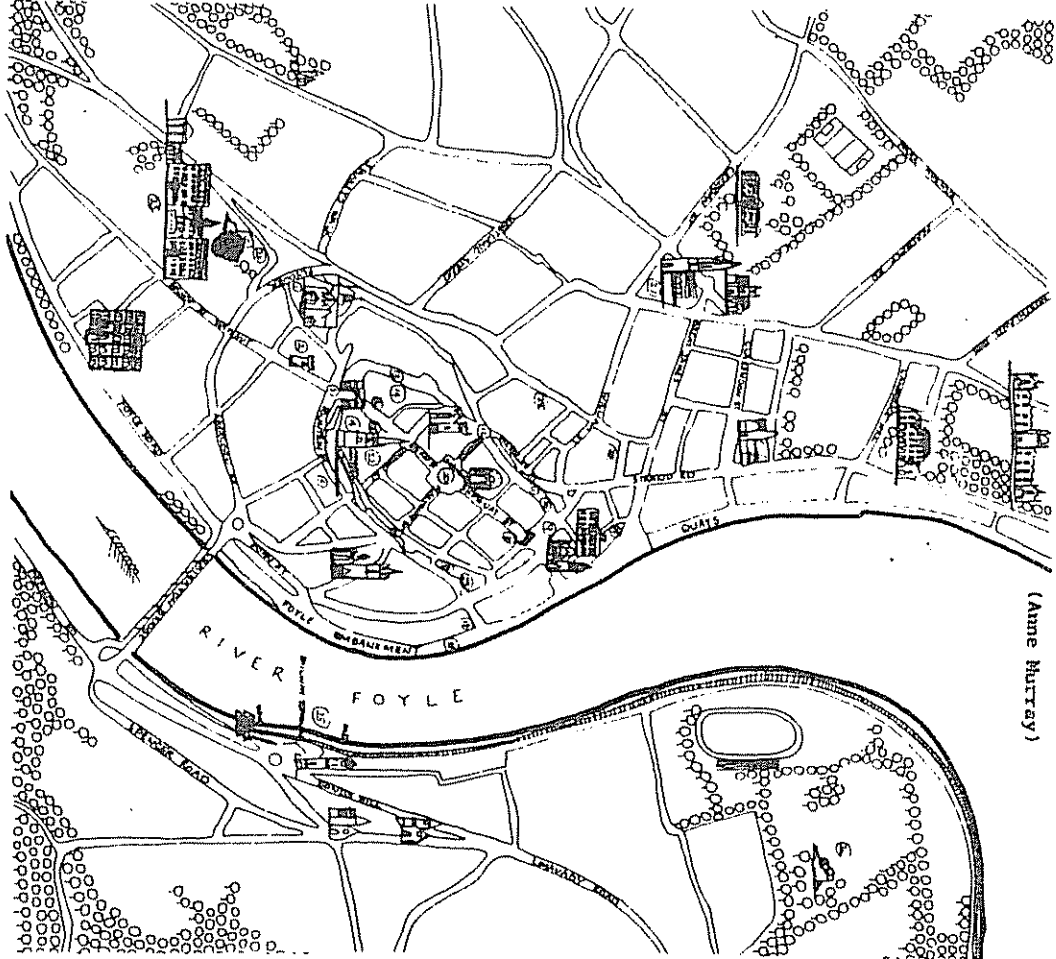

Your historic walkabout could begin in no better place than ST. COLUMBA'S R.C. CHURCH (1). First built 1784, later enlarged. It is built on site of former Templeore erected by Bishop O'Brogha and near here was the Church of Colmba, later known as Dubh Regies to distinguish it from Templeore. The planners who threw a fly-over round this site show a distinct lack of history.

Walking up Bishop St. Without towards the walls is an example of community division - Protestant to the right, Catholics to the left and City COURT (20). Part of the original (1727) FINGERSHAW COURT (140) - tower added 1822. Incomparably connected to modern white slabs of houses.

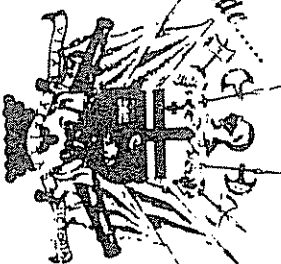

Bishop Gate (1) 1 of the 4 original gates was rebuilt in 1789 as a triumphal Arch to William 3, for Centenary celebrations.

Tourist Guide

Step above FERRYGUAY GATE (16) once called New Ferry Gate which the Apprentice Boy closed by force the Earl of Antrim's troops on 7 December 1688 thus settling in motion the Siege in 1689. To the left is Ferryquay Street and Carlisle Road, both earlier bridge approach roads. Walking on down the walls, ST. COLUMBA'S HALL (7), a Temperance establishment built in 1888, is to the right. The rest of the walls walk down to Shipquay Gate shows a mixture of urban decay and redevelopment. Descend the steep SHIPQUAY GATE (18). Opposite the Gate is the home of the City Council, THE COLLEGE (19). Built in 1870, 1908 structure damaged several times during present troubles. Access to walls can be had at MAGAZINE GATE (10). The old cannon of the Siege can be seen on this stretch walk along the walls beside Magazine Street past so-called HANCOCK'S BASTION (11) up towards Castle Gate and BUTCHER GATE (12). From here there is a good view across the Bogside (redeveloped chronically). It is possible to walk on the walls up as far as the site of WALKER'S MONUMENT (13) which was blown up in 1973. This is opposite ST. AUGUSTINE'S CHURCH (14), the graveyard of which is extremely interesting. It is a monastery through Malace St. onto Bishop St. with (15) the 18th Century clock tower and John Bowden. Excellent example of Greek Revival architecture (so they call it). Opposite is the Freemasons Hall (16) former palace of the Bishops of Derry and Raphoe.

If time is available below is a list of places of interest. As yet unfortunately City Museum does not exist but plans are under way to start on site (17) opposite the transatlantic quay (18) from which tens of thousands of Irish Emigrants sailed for N. America in the 1860's Centuries.

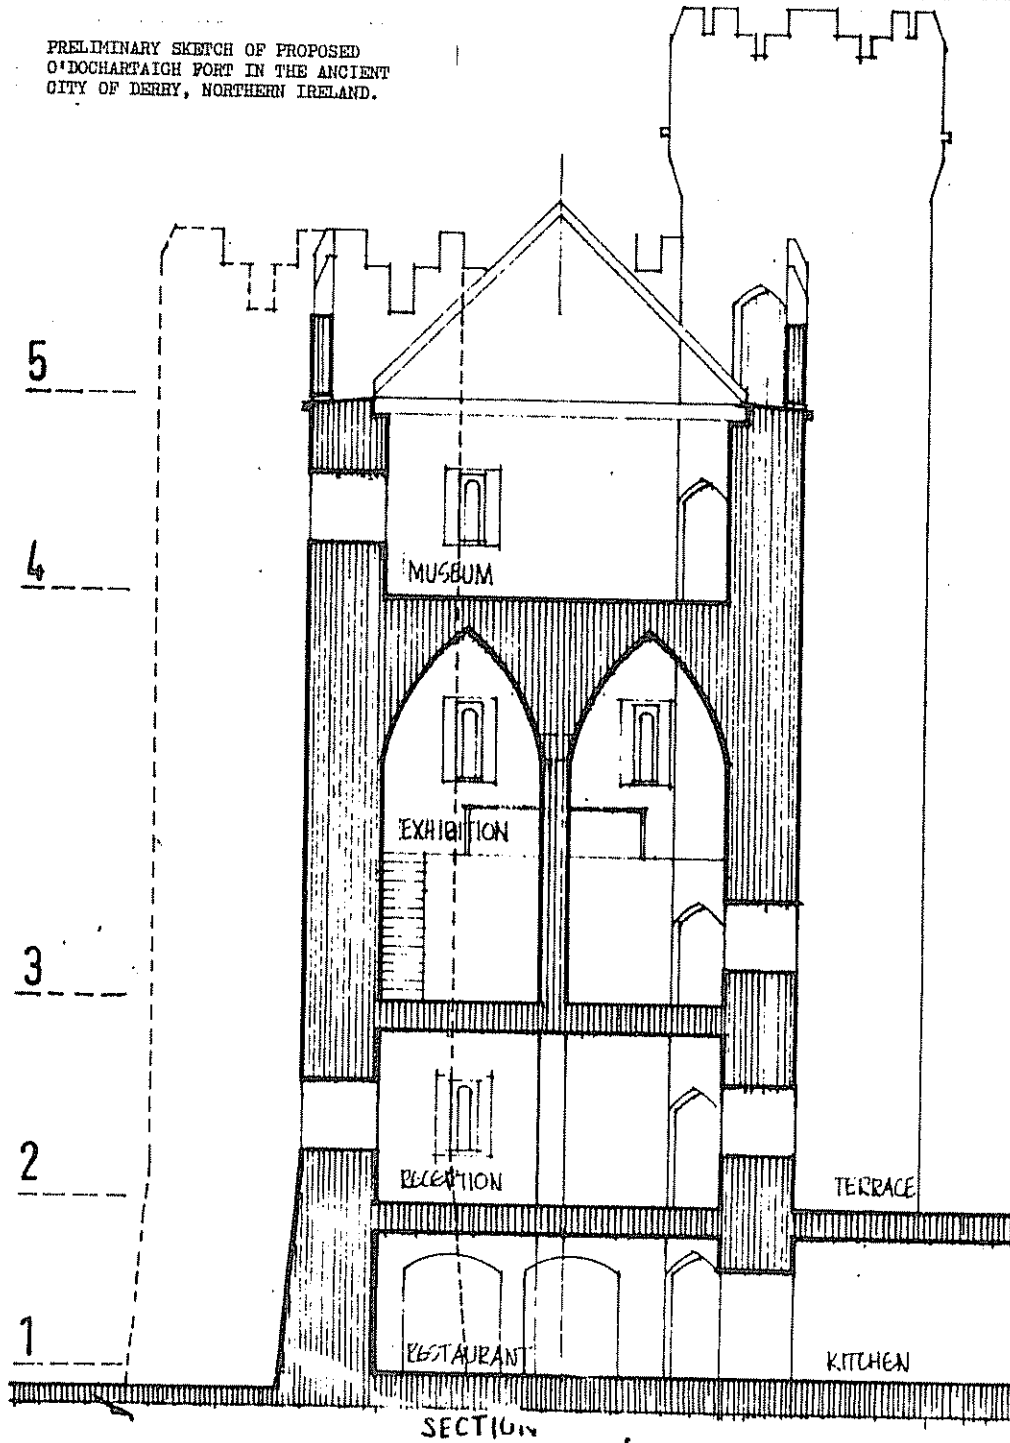

- (19) Harbour Board Offices.
- (20) War Memorial.
- (21) Birthplace of Sir Robert Montgomery, tobacco manufacturer.
- (22) Birthplace of Thomas Callaghan, tobacco manufacturer.
- (23) St. Columba's College 1877 built on site of Earl Bishop Harvey's Casino.
- (24) Old Windmill & later dovecote with feather house.
- (25) Waterford Railway Station 1873/1908.
- (26) Ruins of old cloister church. A church on this site had been rebuilt by Bishop O'Callaghan in 1784.

BE IT DERRY OR LONDONDERRY
TIS THE PLACE TO BE DURING THE

For the O'Dochartaigh's arriving in mid June, this Festival will be in full swing in Derry. It's named for the river running thru Derry and the bay it empties into. There will be information booths in the city to assist visitors.

EILEEN DOHERTY

AN EXTRAORDINARY AMBITION FOR AN EXTRAORDINARY WOMAN from the Bodside is our own Eileen Doherty, wife of Paddy Doherty head of the North West Centre for Learning and Development in Derry, Northern Ireland. Eileen has undertaken the overwhelming task of finding out all there is to know about the thousands of Doherty households in Derry prior to the 1985 International Reunion of the Doherty Clan. This is a delicate task. Not everyone can walk into somebody's house, equipped with a tape recorder and come out knowing all. Privacy must be assured, confidence must be won. "Nonsense", says Eileen. She is, a uniquely qualified person for the job. You don't rear a family of 13, have constant contact with in-laws, out-laws, your own sisters and brothers as well as his plus the grandchildren's spouses and their relatives over a period of fifty seven years without developing the most finely tuned antennae.

Thousands have passed through her doors, now, for a change, she is passing through their doors, as chronicler of the clan, reaching back into history, looking forward to 1985, by, which date all that could be known will be known about Dohertys past and present throughout the world.

The impending gathering of the clan is not being treated as a tourist gimmick. Eileen and a team of workers have set seriously about the task of establishing links among all the Doherty's of the world, starting with all the Doherty's of Derry. There is no reason why every O'Doherty in the globe cannot be traced back to "Fianan, third son of Ceán Fáola, dynasty of Tíre Connell about the end of the seventh century and twelfth in lineal descent from Conal-Gulban who was the direct ancestor of the house of O'Doherty's.

Not every member of the team can bear the suspense and the clerical boredom of this demanding research. That's where stamina, stability and the unique qualifications of a mothering woman like Eileen comes into play. Having coped for a lifetime with her own large clan gatherings, Eileen can think with equanimity of the gathering of 1985 and ask "WHAT'S A FEW MILLION MORE"?

Note: Mr. & Mrs. Means of Cheswick, PA are leaving North America on the Queen Elizabeth II on June 8th. If anybody else is going, let headquarters know.

TIS GREAT TO BE IRISH AND AN O'DOCHARTAIGH.....

The U. S. Congressional Medal of Honour
The Irish lead all foreign-born recipients!

An esteemed reader, James A. Shanahan, 8300 Forest Preserve Dr., Chicago, Illinois 60634, has sent us some very interesting information about the number of Irishmen who received the American Congressional Medal of Honour. The first medal was issued in 1863 and since then 3,410 have been awarded. Of these, 728 were men of foreign birth. They are listed as follows:

Canada.....	52
Denmark.....	10
England.....	95
Germany.....	126
Ireland.....	257
Prussia.....	9
Russia.....	5
Scotland.....	38
Wales.....	7
West Indies.....	5
Yugoslavia.....	1
Sweden.....	16

Look at that incredible figure of 257 for Ireland. It is more than twice the number for the next highest country, Germany and it is indicative of the great part that people from this little island played in the making of the most powerful nation on earth.

Irish Medal of Honor Men by Nick Murphy

A significant part of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge is the Medal of Honor Grove set aside to honor the men serving in the uniform of their country who received our country's highest award for valor in actions assuring the security of our nation and its continued freedom.

The Medal of Honor Grove comprises approximately 52 acres of land roughly divided equally among the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. Each state has a 7 foot, 7 inch obelisk, modeled after the Washington Monument, has the state seal, a donor plaque and names of recipients mounted thereon.

In addition to those honored by their home states there are 148 Medal of Honor recipients who are not accredited to a particular state. Of these 148 little is known except their country of birth and 64 are identified as having being born in Ireland. The list reads like the Irish telephone directory.

Some time ago the Ancient Order of Hibernians was contacted by the Foundation at Valley Forge and asked to underwrite the cost of a monument to the 148 foreign born. Our National President Joe Roche quickly agreed and immediately began a fund-raising effort for the $10,000 necessary for the project. To date with the assistance of the AOH Ladies Auxiliary $5,000 has been raised and presented to the Medal of Honor Grove.

On Saturday, November 17, 1984, a large gathering of Hibernians were present at Valley Forge to watch President Roche break ground for the monument that we expect will be unveiled Sept., 1985. Present plans call for the monument being crafted by Irish artists from Irish marble.

Irish Medal of Honor: Men cont'd.

Also present at the ceremony was a remarkable person, Sr. Veronica of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Order who is the archivist for the Valley Forge Foundation, and who takes a particular interest in the Medal of Honor winners. Incidentally, Sr. Veronica's parents were natives of County Limerick.

Sr. Veronica addressed the gathering and related the story of an Irish-born Medal of Honor winner, whose name appears in the Pennsylvania Monument. Michael Dougherty was born in Faircarragh, Co. Donegal on May 10, 1844 and immigrated to Philadelphia on June 1, 1859.

Two years later at the beginning of the Civil War, Dougherty joined the Irish Brigade and was attached to the 2nd Irish Dragoons. He distinguished himself in several actions and earned his Medal of Honor at the battle of Jefferson.

His citation reads: "At the head of a detachment of his company dashed across an open field, exposed to a deadly fire from the enemy, and succeeded in dislodging them from an unoccupied house, which he and his comrades defended for several hours against repeated attacks, thus preventing the enemy from flanking the position of the Union forces."

Subsequent to this action, Dougherty was captured by the Confederate forces and imprisoned at Andersonville for 23 months. Each day of his imprisonment he wrote in his diary. At the conclusion of the war, Michael was on his way home with 1500 of his comrades on board a riverboat called the Sultana, when the boiler exploded, splitting the boat in two and dumping all aboard into the Mississippi River.

One thousand drowned and Dougherty was among those who swam to safety. On returning to Pennsylvania, Michael married and raised a family of eight children. Today, two of those eight children both in their 90's are living in Philadelphia. One is a nun. Recently, Sr. Veronica visited the two sisters and on behalf of the Valley Forge Archives accepted Michael's diary from his days at Andersonville and his Medal of Honor. A remarkable story indeed.

The Irish who Fought for American Independence

Curtis, the adopted son of George Washington, said: "Ireland furnished one hundred men for every single man furnished by any foreign country": Let America bear eternal gratitude to Irishmen".

Irishmen were so ready to come to the aid of the Americans in their struggle because, David Ramsey says: "The Irish in America with a few exceptions were attached to independence. They had fled from oppression in their native country and could not tolerate the idea that it should follow them."

It is impossible to say the exact number of Irishmen who fought on the American side in the conflict that lasted from 1775 to 1783. In March, 1779, Joseph Galloway said in the British House of Commons, that half the American Army was composed of Irishmen. The historian, Michael J. O'Brien has estimated that forty per cent is much nearer the truth.

At least sixteen generals in the American Army were Irish. These included John Sullivan, Andrew Broune, John Armstrong, Richard Butler, John Clarke, Richard Butte, Thomas Conway, Edward Hand,

The Irish who Fought for American Independence cont'd.

Thomas Hogan, William Irvine, Andrew Lewis, William Maxwell, Richard Montgomery, Stephen Moylan, John Shee, Walter Stewart and William Thompson.

Naval commanders included: John Barry, Hector MacNeill, Gustavus Conyngham. Of these, John Barry was the most outstanding. A native of Tacumshane, Co. Wexford, he rose to the rank of Commodore and became known as "Father of the American Navy".

After the Franco-American Treaty of 1778, three Irish regiments left France to take part in the American struggle. These were the O'Brien Regiment, The Dillon Regiment, and the Walsh Regiment.

Long before these arrived on the scene, however, Irishmen had made their influence felt on the course of the campaign. Sir Henry Clinton, Commander-in-Chief of the British forces in America, described the Irish soldiers as "our most serious antagonists" and he did his best to win the Irish contingent over to his side. Fortunately for America, he was unsuccessful in his attempt, for we have it on authority of the historian Lecky, that "such a body if it had gone over to the English, might have turned the fortunes of war".

George Washington never made any secret of the debt he owed to his Irish soldiers and, as a token of his appreciation for their gallantry and courage, he appointed John Sullivan to be Commanding Officer for the day on March 17, 1776 and ordered that the name St. Patrick should be the official password. Three of the signatories of the Declaration of Independence were of Irish birth and six were of Irish ancestry. Those of Irish birth were: Matthew Thornton, James Smith and George Taylor. Those of Irish ancestry were: Charles Carroll, Thomas Lynch, Thomas McKean, Edward Rutledge, George Read and Charles Thomson.

John Dunlop who printed the declaration was born and reared in Ireland.

Ireland may well take pride in the role her sons played in securing national independence for their adopted country. When the War of Independence was over, they were equally prominent in the building of the country.

Many years later, the great American, Dr. Oresteg Brownson, could say "Here the Irish and their descendants are by all odds and under every point of view the purest, the best and the most trustworthy of the American people".

WASHINGTON'S STAFF: On Washington's staff there were 494 Murphys, 331 McCarty's, 221 Burke's, hundreds of Daly's, Cassidy's, Connolly's, Doherty's, Hogan's, Sullivan's and Walsh's. Washington wrote to Ireland stating that "we must work together, your cause and our cause is alike. If we gain our freedom let us pray together for Irish freedom."

Irish in American History by James O'Dougherty

The Irish began arriving in America as early as 1621 according to American archives. The great Shenandoah Valley was called the "Irish Tract", long before the Revolutionary War. Approximately, 200,000 Irishmen arrived in the American colonies before the war started.

The famine emigration of the 1840's was actually the second great flood of Irish immigrants. The American Army in Pennsylvania was called the "Irish Line" since it contained so many Irish troops. Wexford born John Barry, was called the Father of the American Navy.

Ulsterman contributed their proportionate share in freeing America, including the O'Doherty's, O'Neil's, O'Kelly's, Maguire's, McCann's, O'Reilly's, McKanus', O'Loughran's, etc. but Southern Ireland supplied the vast bulk of Washington's Rebel Army.

IRISH AMERICAN HISTORY

The story begins with the Penal Laws. As we have said, England, in order to make sure of Ireland's subservience, virtually denied all educational facilities to the Catholic Irish. This was a hard blow for a land whose people, for more than a thousand years, had looked upon learning as one of the great pursuits of life; a land where great universities had flourished before the poor people of England could count their fingers. So, as best they could, the Irish educated their children anyway. So-called Hedge Schools, conducted in wooden glens sprang up. But the English were stern when a School Master was caught; he was banished to the Colonies, usually to the wilderness of America. Many of the, discouraged by the opposition in their native land, came to America voluntarily. They were welcome. There was no school system as such in the Colonies. A Pennsylvania scholar of the eighteenth century wrote, "forty years ago our people scarcely knew what a school was, but in later times there have come over young men from Ireland, some Presbyterians and some Roman Catholic, who commenced school teaching, but as they saw better openings, they gave that up. Undeniably, these itinerant Catholic scholars taught along with Latin and Math, a hatred of England that contributed to the Colonies' final resolution to break away from the Mother Country. Certainly, they supplied at least one signer of the Declaration of Independence, George Taylor. One of the most famous signatures on the Declaration of Independence, that of John Hancock, owed its calligraphic character to an Irish Schoolmaster, Peter McLouth, a graduate of Maynooth College. Other famous Americans received their introduction to learning from Irish Schoolmasters. Abraham Lincoln's first Schoolmaster was an Irishman named Riney.

INCH ISLAND PROGRESS**

In a joint effort, the O'Dochartaigh Clan of North America is attempting to re-establish itself in the land of the origination of its name.

This is a heavy burden to put on its members in the year of the International Reunion in Ireland, but opportunities must be grasped when they arise. The opportunity occurred in August, 1984. The 5 acres of land with an 18th Century Manor House in its midst was offered for sale (88,500 Irish pounds).

A research team of 12 Dohertys went over the house and grounds, checking all its utilities. The residence passed inspection with very good marks.

Then this group seriously got down to bargaining and before long they had reduced the price 10,000 pounds. Negotiations continued. The owner agreed to the following stipulations; 1,000 pounds to hold an option, the final E 77,500 payable in 3 steps. The final payment, with interest, would be due August 1, 1985.

I must also mention that the inside is in exceptional condition. The following are new in the last 3 years, 3 baths, a partial bath, kitchen, 4 fireplaces, a stairway and a central heating system. There is over 5,000 sq. ft. of living space in this Manor House. There is also 4,000 sq. ft. of useable space in the outbuildings. A beautiful lawn area, plenty of parking, a greenhouse, an orchard, a wooded area and a potential (1 acre) botanical garden are part of this exceptional purchase.

We have paid over E 26,000 on it. Another E 25,000 is due April 30, 1985. The following levels of participation are available. Check the benefits, also.

Level I - Share Partner

- A. 30 shares available in Inch Group Partnership.
1. Lifetime membership in the association.
 2. Cost $3,500, 1/30th return on investment.
 3. 25 to 35% lodging cost reduced, forever.
 4. Priority status on lodging.
 5. Tax break in U.S.A.
 6. Ownership of Land in O'Dochartaigh Country.
 7. Membership of Board of Directors, one vote/share.
 8. First 15 purchased shares will have a room or area named for them and identified by a plaque.

Level II - Charter Member

- B. Open for 20 shares:
1. Cost $1000 to $2000.
 2. 25% to 30% meal cost reduced.
 3. Priority status on lodging.
 4. Ownership of land in O'Dochartaigh Country.
 5. Lifetime membership in association.
 6. Free use of an apartment for 6 weeks to be scheduled by the managing partner.

Level III - Contributing Member

A. Open for 50 membership units:

1. $500 cost
2. Lifetime membership in association.
3. Five weeks free use of one apartment to be scheduled by the managing partner.
4. Notice on wall plaque, acknowledging each charter member and home area.

Level IV - Donor Member

A. Open for 500 units minimum.

1. $25.00 to $100.00 cost.
2. Use of one apartment for a week per $100 donation.
3. A wall plaque would be erected with donor names.
4. Money raised to be used for furniture, maintenance, and other necessities.

Level I and II will both become a member in the Inch Group Partnership. A legal agreement has been drawn up and registered by the law firm of O'Rourke and Dohan (telephone # (313) 961-9500). This is available to all who wish a copy. Write headquarters or call (313) 744-1106.

This will be your home! The caretaker and also a share holder will be your current president, Patrick Dougharty. We have a complete floor plan of the premises and the partnership agreement. If you would like a copy, call (313) 744-1106. If you have any thoughts on this or questions, let headquarters know. Please note that I will be shipping all records and file cabinets (at my own expense) to Ireland in mid-April. I will be delivering the 2nd payment to the owner at that time. He will need £ 25,000. As of March 1st, we are 2/5 of the way to that goal. We now have over 1000 families in our association. A group this size can accomplish *this worthwhile but difficult undertaking. WE NEED AND WELCOME EVERYONE CONTRIBUTION AND SUPPORT!

We take possession of "Ar nducas" on Inch Isle May 1st, providing we have made that payment.

Reunion goes.....Come to your headquarters on Inch anytime. I will be at many reunion festivities but if your free, stop in and look around. We'll try to have somebody on duty most of the time.

However, we will have Open House with conducted tours both inside and out. The teapot will be on the back burner. It is difficult to set dates for tea and tours so far in advance but how about the following dates: June 19, 21, 23, 25, 29; July 1, 3, 5, 7, and 9. Tentative hours: 5:00 P.M. to 8:30 P.M.

We will have live music some evenings and plenty of conversation. Put the evenings above on your reunion calendar. DIRECTIONS: Inch is off the Buncrana Road between Derry and Buncrana. Follow the Inch road sign on the west side of this road then across the causeway onto the Island. Keep to the right and as you approach a corner you will notice a pillared driveway on the left with an O'Dochartaigh crest on it. Go past that drive (it is the exit) to the next one on the left and turn into it. Park in the front or rear of the Manor House and come on in, anydoor.

During the month of June and July several traditional celebrations will be occurring which we may not be aware of or familiar with. On June 24, Midsummer Day is recognized as the occasion for festival and sacrifice in pre-Christian times and its eve a night for bonfires which, it was thought, kept at bay malevolent forces particularly potent at this period. The popular custom of leaping over the bonfire was possibly the relic of an earlier purification rite, in which a path was made through the centre of the fire by moving the faggots to either side. Young men and women would then compute with each other to see who could leap highest over the flames, and it was said that whoever jumped highest would be the first to marry. Another custom involved taking a glowing ember from the fire and carrying it three times around the house. This would ensure a household free from illness for the following year. In fact bonfires were so popular on Midsummer Eve that if you stood on a hilltop a hundred years ago and looked in any direction, you could have seen fires burning on almost every hill.

Also on the twenty-fourth of June, The Feast of St. John the Baptist is celebrated by the church in an attempt to christianise the old festival of midsummer, and is of special importance to fishing communities. On the Eve of the feast, sprigs of St. John's wort were brought into homes, rowan sprigs fastened to the mastheads or bows of boats, and a blessing asked on the boats and fishing gear. At Portlaine, in Co. Antrim, the salmon-fishermen of the River Bush held a communal dinner, considered the most important event of the year. Known locally as "The Salmon Dinner", the menu consisted of fish soup, freshly-caught salmon, new potatoes, and Bushmills whiskey.

July is known as The Hungry Month. This period preceeding the harvest was one of anxiety for farmers and sometimes of tragedy for poor people with no land or cattle. The six weeks between midsummer and the end of July were known as "the bitter six weeks", and July itself as "the hungry month" or "the month of the shaking out of the bags". At this time the bags containing the last remnants of flour and meal from the previous year's harvest were shaken out, the last scraps used, and the bags laid ready for the new season. New potatoes were of course the foremost crop, and by July the previous year's supply would be almost exhausted, while the new crop would not ripen until the end of the month.

On the thirteenth of July following Orangeman's Day, the famous Sham Fight takes place at Scrava, Co. Down and even today the thrills and spills of this representation of the Battle of the Boyne are as popular as ever. Each year "King Billy" and "King James", with their doughy followers, battle it out, and a white horse is also in evidence.

The fifteenth of July is widely known as St. Swithin's Day. One explanation of the origin of this belief is that when the abbot St. Swithin died, his monks, wishing to demonstrate their love and respect, determined to build a costly mausoleum. The saint, who detested ostentation during his life, asked God to prevent such an expenditure of time and money which might be spent to more advantage in helping the poor. On the day when his mortal remains were to be exhumed and transferred, it began to rain and continued to do so for forty days, thus preventing the exhumation. During this time St. Swithin appeared to one of his monks, explaining God's intention. His wishes were complied with.

FAMILY FOLKLORE

(Fact or fiction? Who cares?)

A 12 year old O'Dochartaigh on hearing the news that the Duke of Windsor had abdicated the throne of England for the love of a divorced woman, said "I wish I had royal blood." To which her indignant grandfather replied, "You do! You do! You have the blood of the O'Dochartaighs running through your veins, lass. You cannot get more royal than that!" (tis true, tis true.)

* * * * *

Then there was another O'Dochartaigh wake where the seating was limited. Paddy O'Dochartaigh and his friends stood the corpse in the corner, thus ingeniously providing more seats immediately.

* * * * *

Seamus O'Dochartaigh and his brother inlaw, Michael Murphy were sponsors at the baptism of a new nephew. Seamus laid down $3.00 as an offering for the clergyman, to which Mike added $5.00. Seamus on seeing Mike's fiver, grinned, happily and picked up his $3.00!!! (I wonder that he didn't pick up Mike's five.)

* * * * *

Little Bridget wondered why grandfather O'Dochartaigh always admonished her about putting too much water in his "hot toddy." He never suggested she add more whiskey, just that she used too much water.....

LEST WE FORGET: Several people have written O'Dochartaigh headquarters in Attica, saying that they had an uncle Jack that went west many years ago and was never again heard from. We are pleased to report that uncle Jack is alive and well, residing in San Antonio, Texas. He attended our reunion!

STORIES AND LEGENDS OF THE O'DOHERTY

County Donegal, Ireland

We are told in the days of Red Hugh O'Donnell, the chief rent of Inishowen, payable by the O'Dohertys to O'Donnell, was raised from 120 head of cattle per annum to 180. The increase not being forthcoming, O'Donnell sent a reminder to the Inishowen Chieftain, demanding in the following terms:

"Pay me my tribute, or if you don't.....! O'Donnell."
BACK CAME THE APT IF UNSATISFYING REPLY.....

"Come and take it, but if you do.....! O'Doherty."

In the days when Irish Chieftains were independent rulers, each one had his own bodyguard of retainers or servants. The latter were generally athletes, and friendly games and contests frequently took place between rival clans. A story is told, that on one occasion the contest finished "all even" between the O'Doherty and O'Donnell teams. There was then held a final deciding test between a giant representing each side in a weight-lifting competition. The O'Donnell failed to lift a stone given him for the test. The O'Doherty then came forward and, amidst cries of encouragement from his supporters, succeeded in lifting the stone. The O'Dohertys, amidst loud cheering, were declared the winners, but their jubilation presently gave way to grief and "keening" as their champion was heard to say "Breash-ma-chree" (it has broken my heart) and immediately expired. The scene of this incident is shown to be near Castle Aileach, Derry, Northern Ireland.

IRISH POETRY

William Durning, farmer, poet, historian, owns a farm on Horn Head and composed the following poem dedicate to his fellow countrymen who sought their fortunes in foreign lands..Horn Head is a point of land on the Northern coast of County Donegal..Ships from Belfast and Derry going to America could be watched, as they passed by. A cairn of stones at the viewpoint is said to have been created by relatives who deposited a stone as a ship passed, carrying family members. This is a portion of his poem "An Emigrant's Farewell" from his book "If you're a Wee Bit Irish."

My native shores and green clad hills
Are fading fast from view
The ship that bears me on my way
Ploughs through the water blue
With tearful eyes I backward gaze
A parting look to share
As all the lofty mountains gray
Have vanished into air.

From a portion of Richard A. Doherty's, Troy, MI speech given at our first International Reunion in 1981, Attica, MI.

I just want to leave you with one thing. My father was the only one, in his family, to carry on the name. That burden was also placed on me. Fortunately, I have two healthy sons, of whom I am very proud, to carry on the name. There was a poem, written by Anne Campbell (a writer for the Detroit News) that appeared in the Detroit News, and was later published in a book. Its called the "First Hair of the Doherty's." This was pinned up, over my crib, when I was in infant.

The first hair of the Doherty's will soon arrive to be, A credit to his mither and the name of Doherty.

I am not sure he'll be a boy, with Irish eyes of blue, But we'll be wearing happy smiles, when he comes into view.

The homes of the O'Malley's, the Reagans, and the rest, Are swarming with new babies, heaven made them blessed.

We've looked at them, with envy, while walking out alone, But now we'll be pushing a DUGGY of our own.

I don't know what he will look like, I don't know what he'll be, Enough that he'll be bearing the name of Doherty!

ATTENTION! All O'Dochartaighs, If you plan to attend the Reunion, please fill out the form below and return it to headquarters by May 1, 1985.

ONWARD TO DERRY!

Lord Mayor Fegan invited us to Derry,
Sent Paddy Doherty, as his emissary,
We will go,
Eager to show,
Love that flows,
Homeward to Derry!!!

1985 Reunion plans are underway,
For the regal tribe O'Dochartaigh,
Standing tall,
One and all,
Answering the call,
Onward to Derry!!!

We've scrimped, - saved and planned,
To come to dear old Ireland,
Give a cheer,
We're finally here,
It's reunion year,
'85' in Derry!

We can hear the bands,
The clapping of hands,
Heads held high,
Flags will fly,
As we march by,
At home in Derry!!!

Marching with Irish cousins by our side,
O'Dochartaigh's filled with pride,
By blood consigned,
To remain aligned,
One in mind,
Happy in Derry!!!

Chieftan's heir's, we are proud,
To be a part of this great crowd,
With cousins embracing,
It's God we are praising,
For this is truly amazing,
Claiming Derry!!!

The Irish have been great for using a "nick-name" to identify or distinguish one sept from another, within a tribe. Family Group #20 is known, in Donegal, as the Corn-lena Doherty's. They are so called because the grandfather is Cornelis and from Lenan Bay. Thus, when speaking about Doherty's and designating a sept, as the Corn-lena's everyone knows their origin.

A grandparent of one of our members confided to the wide-eyed grandchild that he was indeed fortunate to be on this earth. According to Grandpa O'Dochartaigh, the village that this sept came from in Donegal, had fought the enemy bitterly and brutally, causing the enemy to retreat from the village. The village was inhabited by O'Dochartaigh's. When the enemy had regrouped and reinforced themselves they made a massive raid on the village of O'Dochartaigh's, vowing to kill every male inhabitant, regardless of their age. They came and slaughtered the male O'Dochartaigh's; old men and little boys, as well as the O'Dochartaigh warriors. Through all the bloodshed a wife of one of those slain, by the enemy, quietly gave birth to a son, under the cover of her long skirts, while rocking gently in a chair. Grandpa O'Dochartaigh was emphatic in his declaration that we are all descended from that one lady, in Donegal.

This same grandpa was known to the lumbering community of Michigan, in the late 1900's, as "Bulldog Tom Dougherty - roughest man between Detroit and the Straits of Mackinac." To his grandchildren he was quite a gentle person, with hands as big as hams, often heard to refer to babies as "little gaffers." We can only wish that we could have heard more of his stories, as I am sure they were many, in number and would have enriched our lives. (Family Group #1)

NOTE -- DIRECTORY

Coming out very soon. You will be receiving a membership directory in the mail. We will bill you for the exact cost of printing and mailing. We hope we are not being presumptuous in doing this. With our big move coming up we must get them out in a hurry. We wish you to have them prior to reunion time. Our last day to be receiving mail at the Attica Post Office Box Address will be April 23, 1985. Attempt to pay for it by then. However, the mail will continue to be processed by Betty. She will record memberships, send out cards, issue Family Group Numbers, make deposits, etc for awhile. U.S. checks will be acceptable at our new Ireland address.

HELP!!!! We have lost track of many members. Below is a list of people who have apparently moved. Can anyone help us locate them?

DOHERTY WINS COURT VICTORY

Taken from: The Irish People, Bronx, New York

Federal Judge John Spizzzo has denied a British request for the extradition of former Irish Republican Army volunteer Joseph Doherty under the political offense exemption to America's extradition treaty with Britain.

British sought Doherty's extradition because of participation in a battle between the Irish Republican Army and British forces in which a British captain was killed. Doherty was one of the eight Irish Republican Army members who dramatically escaped from Crumlin Road Jail on June 10, 1981. Following his escape, the sentence of life imprisonment was pronounced against him in his absence.

Doherty was arrested at his place of employment in New York in June of 1983. He was held without bail. Extensive hearings involving the entire nature of the Irish Republican Army's struggle against British rule were conducted. Among the witnesses were former Irish Republican Army Chief of Staff and Nobel Prize winner Sean McBride, Tim Pat Coogan, Editor of the Irish Press, former MP Bernadette Devlin McAliskey and representatives of the Royal Ulster Constabulary and British Army, as well as loyalist MP Robert McCartney.

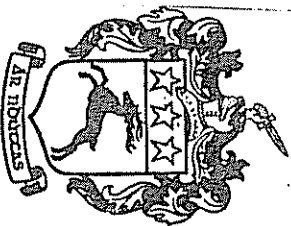

The defense of political exemption was raised in which Doherty sought to show that a civil war situation exists and that his acts were part of the Irish Republican Army's battle to remove British rule. The British sought to show that Doherty's actions were criminal in nature or terrorist acts.

Judge Spizzzo ruled that the political offense exemption was valid in this case and that the Irish Republican Army's struggle is to wrest political control of Ireland from Britain.

Doherty was born on January 20, 1935, interned at age 17, and also served a term of imprisonment with special category political status in Long Kesh. The ruling follows similar holdings in British attempts of extradition of Desmond Mackin and Liam Quinn.

Judge Spizzzo in his decision described the attack in which British Captain Westmacott was killed as an illustration of the political offenses exemption in its most classic form. Spizzzo sharply distinguished the IRA from amorphous groups like the Red Brigade, Black Liberation Army, etc., because of the IRA's command structure, organization and capacity.

Doherty is still incarcerated at this time, facing possible appeal or deportation proceedings. There was an angry outcry from the British. The Irish Free State remains the only nation which has extradited Irish Republican Army members to British forces.

I HAVE A NEW COUSIN, YEA 10,000

A Question of Race

A dozen years ago, I was a graduate student and administrator at the University of Notre Dame, a school that has educated more than it's share of O'Dochartaighs. Ethnic humor was rife among my computer-employees, very few of whom were of Gaelic descent. "Bernie" Nalepinski was accused of heading a plot to install a "Polack-Pope", and "Bernie" Goldberg of a plot to replace President Hesburg with the former Jewish Lord-Mayor of Dublin.

But I was the butt of my share. Close Hispanic friends called me "Anglo", knowing full well the Celtic-Gaelic nature of the O'Dochartaigh gene pool-not a drop of Angle, Saxon, Jute nor Dane blood in it. And how were they so sure? By our last name, "which is certainly not found in Hispanic countries." They knew full well that when the O'Donnells fled Donegal in 1607, in the "Flight of the Earls", they were accompanied by at least one male O'Doherty. To have pointed out that I had an engineering naval officer counterpart in the Spanish Navy, Admiral Pascual Do(g)herty, of ancient lineage, would have been to play into their hands. They would have succeeded in "getting a rise out of (me)", something one dare not let happen at Notre Dame and still be allowed to take part in this good-natured ethnic ribaldry.

But how do we defend, if such were ever "required", the black O'Dochartaighs?

Not all blacks have emigrated against their will, but most, by far, did, and it is their right to our name that is to be justified here.

In America, the first slaves arrived only a few decades after the landing of the Pilgrims, and black men formed a (very) small part of the Spanish Occupation here in the Southwest, between Santa Fe, N.M. and Mexico City, beginning a hundred years earlier. But, with admittedly limited research resources, I can find no record of black O'Dochartaighs among either group. It therefore follows that they earned their right to the name in the country where they now reside.

Now there are records of O'Dochartaigh plantation and slave-owners in America. We must assume that some fathered children of slave-mothers, as was quite common during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in America. Such children may or may not have been acknowledged at birth, and some might never have been had not the 14th Amendment intervened, for a black man, in order to vote, was required to state his family name.

He took it from one of three sources, and stated it in one of two ways, it seems:

1) If fathered by his owner, he used his owner's last name, and quite properly so. Or,

2) otherwise used his owner's last name, with or without the latter's permission, or

3) used, most often with their permission, the name of some family that had been kind to him. A black cowboy, George McJunkin, who made a famous anthropological find in New Mexico seventy years ago, did just that.

If illiterate, he had his name spelled phonetically-some verbal variation of "Do(u)gherty". Once reduced to writing, that spelling "stuck".

Do black O'Dochartaighs have a right to take part in our family activities? Your Tribal Seanachie here maintains they do, without question, and with great welcome.

Unfortunately, the process of restoring full justice to the black man, who, like our ancestors in Ireland, has suffered gross, severe, and incalculable prejudice for being what he is, or his ancestors were, forbidden to achieve his full potential, is incomplete. It will be a long time before he can, without embarrassment, take part in any form of that good-natured Notre Dame ethnic repartee. Let us hope that will take no longer than absolutely necessary, and let us, at least in our own family, hasten the day.

THE DOUGHERTY FAMILY IN AMERICA 1744-1954

The Dougherty family was an important one in Donegal County, also in Mayo County, from the 11th to the end of the 16th century. The Dougherty family was one of the most important in Ireland at the beginning of the 17th century.

The Dougherty Army Motto: "Arm Dutches" means "for my hereditary rights". The Coat of Arms of the Dougherty family in Ireland as given by Burke's General Heraldry of England, Scotland and Ireland, interpreted means, "I hope for my Country".

David Dougherty, with his wife Polly, and their family emigrated from Ireland around 1744. Thomas Dougherty, the youngest son, enlisted in the Colonial Army, in the War of the American Revolution and served three years. At the turn of the century, Thomas, who had married Margaret Deese, a French girl, made his way from New York to Rockbridge County, Virginia. In 1806, Thomas with his wife and daughter, Esther, and a nephew, Jacob Dougherty (son of Anthony), attracted by the large iron deposits in the mountains of East Tennessee, made their way to Johnson County, then Ashe County, and established a home on the banks of Roan's Creek at the con junction of Mill Creek. While living here Thomas was engaged in the manufacture of iron for many years. Thomas was in his 90th year when he died while on a visit to his daughter, who lived at Gap Civil in Ashe County, N.C. He was buried there near the North Carolina line.

Military Record of Thomas Dougherty, War of the American Revolution 1776-1779:

Thomas Dougherty served as private in Captain James Gregg's Co., 3rd New York Regiment. He was in the battle of Trenton, New Jersey. His regiment was commanded by Colonel Peter Gansevoert, Revolutionary Military Record of Thomas Dougherty cont'd:

War. Thomas Dougherty enlisted for three years on December 10, 1776 and was discharged December 11, 1779.

OUR SPANISH CONNECTION

HEADQUARTERS is in possession of many publications on Ship Hydro-dynamics and Energy Saving Ship Construction. These are authored by Pascual O'Dogherty, Admiral. One book is co-authored by M. O'Dogherty. These books detail such information as: Propeller, Hull Interaction and Propulsive Efficiency and related problems, Hydrodynamic optimization of an energy saving trawler.

A group of our members met with Pascual for an eventful evening during one of Pascual's world circling lecture tours. He was conducting a symposium on "Ship Hydrodynamics" at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Pascual with his family will be very much in evidence at the Irish Reunion. He was born in 1920. Feel free to introduce yourself to this very charming Irish-Spanish gentlemen and his equally charming family.

- (1) The original Gaelic name is HY-DAHER-TEAGH , meaning "The Lord of the oak houses".
- (2) Cathaoir Rua (Sir Cahir, for the English) was the last of the Irish Chieftains, being well-known in Irish History for his revolt in 1608, when he burned Derry to the ground , in order to; revenge an insult to himself, by the English Governor. His sword is kept as a War trophy, at the Guild Hall, in Derry. At the death of Cathaoir Rua, beheaded by a Scottish marksman, in Kilmacrennan, the O'Dogherty line continued through his two brothers, Sean the eldest, who escaped from Inis Eoghain, to find refuge with his foster father , The O'Rourke, in Co. Cavan, and Rory, the youngest, who went to the Spanish Netherlands, at the side of his sister Rose, married to The O'Neill, who was serving in the Spanish Army of the Archduke. Rory served in that Army, leaving no known descendance. Sean married in Derry in 1609, to Elizabeth O'Cahan. His descendants lived generally in Co. Cavan, where they had an extense estate.
- (3) At the death of Eoghan O'D, in 1784, his younger brother, Henry, who was Vicar General of the Diocese of Meath, decided to bring his nephews, HENRY, SEAN and CLINTON-DILLON O'D (sons of EOGHAN)

The O'DOGHERTY Clan is a junior branch of the O'DONNELL family, as FIAMHAN, ancestor of DOCHARTACH, was a younger brother of MURCHADH , The O'DONNELL. Just in the same way, all the McDAIDS are originated from DAVID O'DOGHERTY, second brother of one of the ruling O'DOGHERTY Chieftains.

The proper spelling of the name is O DOCHARTAIGH, meaning descendants of DOCHARTACH.

SOME NOTES ON THE GENEALOGY OF THE O'DOGHERTY FAMILY

According to the books "IRISH PEDIGREES", by O'Hart (Vol. I & II) and "TWIXT FOYLE AND SWILLY", by Harry P. Swan, the O'Doghertys descend directly from King HEBER FIONA of Ireland, son of King MILESIUS of Spain, through King NIAL OF THE NINE HOSTAGES and his son CONAL GULBAN. The O'Dogherty Clan is called Clann Fiamhain.

FIAMHAN, direct ancestor of DOCHARTACH, founder of the name, was the 12th direct descendant of King Nial.

The complete line, father to son, to the present day, is as follows :

CORRECT GENEALOGY OF THE O'DOGHERTYS OF INNISH-OWEN

- 126 Sir Cahir O'Dogherty : First son of John Og, Lord of Inis Eoghain. Died in 1608, at 21 years of age, leaving no male issue.
John O'Dogherty (1588-1638), second brother of Cahir. He married in Derry in 1609 to Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Patrick O'Cahan. At the death of Sir Cahir O'Dogherty, slain by a marksman in Kilmacrenan, John was hidden by his foster father, The O'Rourke. A third brother of Sir Cahir, Rory, escaped to the Spanish Netherlands and served with the Catholic Armies of the Archduke. Rory left no known descendance.
- 127 John O'Dogherty, first son of John, had no male descendance. Owen O'Dogherty, second son, who married to Mary O'Rourke in 1638. William O'Dogherty, third brother.
- 128 Cahir O'Dogherty (1639-1714), first son of Owen. He was three years old at the death of his father in 1642. He married Bridget O'Reilly in 1667, in Co. Cavan. He had a second brother, called Owen.
- 129 Owen O'Dogherty, second son of Cahir, who died in 1732. He married in 1715 to Margaret O'Cassidy, daughter of Henry O'Cassidy, Esq., Co Louth. He had a first brother, Cahir, who left no descendance.
- 130 John O'Dogherty, first son of Owen, died in 1762. He married to Margaret O'Kelly in Co. Cavan. He had a second brother, called Cahir.
- 131 Owen O'Dogherty, first son of John, who died in 1784, leaving three sons, who were minor of age at the death of their father. He married Jane Browne. He had a second brother, Henry, who had graduated in Sciences at the Sorbonne, in Paris University. He became a priest and was also a D.D. and Vicar General of the Diocese of Meath. In 1790, Henry O'Dogherty decided to accompany his three nephews, Henry, John and Clinton-Dillon O'Dogherty, to Spain, hoping for them to make a career in the Spanish Navy.
- 132 Henry (1774-1803), John (1775-1847) and Clinton^dDillon (1777-1805) O'Dogherty, sons of Owen. They traveled to Spain in 1790, with their uncle Henry, joining the Spanish Navy, as midshipmen. For this purpose, they had to bring along their Genealogy, showing their lineal descendance from John Og O'Dogherty, Lord of Inis Eoghain from 1582 to 1601. Henry and Clinton-Dillon died without descendance. John O'Dogherty married in 1808 to Marfa Josefa Macedo, in Redondela (Galicia, Spain).
- 133 Juan O'Dogherty (1809- 1840?), first son of John. Army Officer. He married Marfa Navaja in Redondela. Carlos Enrique O'Dogherty, second brother, who died in his youth.

- 134 Ramón Salvador O'Dogherty (1835-1902) , first son of Juan. Born in Redondela. Traveled to England, in his middle twenties, in order to claim Irish family property. His lineage was certified by the Queen's Bench, but not the land property which had prescribed, due to the long time elapsed. Back to Spain, he settled down in San Fernando (Cádiz) and married in 1883 to Isabel Sánchez.
- 135 Pascual O'Dogherty (1886-1964), only legitimate son of Ramón Salvador. Born in San Fernando (Cádiz). Married in 1918 to Cayetana Sánchez-Zuazo. He was a well known Headmaster of a School of Mathematics, in San Fernando. At his death, a street has been dedicated to his memory.
- 136 Ramón Salvador O'Dogherty, first son of Pascual. Born in San Fernando (Cádiz) , in 1919. Doctor in Medicine, specialist in Pathology. Married in 1952 to Catalina Fabra. Their purpose is for filing efficiency. If you have a relative with a different number, let us know. Then you will all take the lower number. We are now at F. G. #1050.

What is our membership head count number? We have no idea of this as many memberships include large families. We would like each household to hold a membership and receive our Newsletters but then again tis nice to know these Newsletters get passed around.

DESCENDANTS OF DANIEL & PATRICK DOUGHERTY
EARLY 1800 MONROE CO., OHIO PIONEERS

Our 6th Annual July 27th

NEXT REUNION...for the descendants of Daniel and Patrick DOUGHERTY, early 1800's Monroe Co. Ohio settlers will be held JULY 27, 1985 at the fairgrounds, Woodsfield, Monroe Co. Ohio. This is our 6th annual, and of course we want to make it the best ever. Make your plans now to attend. I think our reunion last year at Woodsfield was one of our best. our love and camaraderie for each other really came through. So... BE THERE Saturday, July 27, 1985.
DINNER AT 1:00PM...SPECIAL EVENTS SCHEDULED BOTH MORNING AND AFTERNOON.

FUTURE DOUGHERTY-DAUGHERTY REUNIONS...As some diversity for both Ohio and West Virginia clan members, and looking ahead to 1986 or 1987, we might want to think about holding one of our reunions at the beautiful historic Blennerhassett Island Parkersburg, W.Va. The Blennerhassett mansion (exact replica) is scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1985. For your history "buffs" a conspiracy to divide the western section of the United States from the eastern states took place here in 1806. The infamous AARON BURR conspired with HARMAN BLENNERHASSETT. The park on the island is beautiful, with numerous picnic tables and 3 or 4 large shelters the size of those in Barnesville...a photographers paradise. Sternwheelers leave for the island every hour and return to Point Park Parkersburg on the half hour. Something to think about...let us know your thoughts.

DOUGHERTY CEMETERY, WASHINGTON TWP...A number of people have asked when we are going to take another tour into the old Dougherty cem. OK...how about the Saturday morning of our next reunion...meeting about 9:00AM? More next R & N.

1869 LAND OWNERSHIP MAP OF MONROE CO., OHIO by John B. Noll...compiled by Rita Bone Kopp. This map predates the 1898 Monroe Co. Ohio atlas by 29 years. 8 1/2 x 11, about 48 pages of maps, including the towns and information appearing on the sides of the original map; spiral bound with soft cover. Amount $10.00 postage paid. DOUGHERTY-DAUGHERTY REUNION O'COOKBOOKS...Sorry but all cookbooks have been sold. We want to thank Ray & Ave Stanley and their TEXAS families for putting this fine cookbook together...SPECIAL THANKS to Cheryl Stanley Safley of Denton, Texas for all the typing and to Ray Stanley for coming up with the O'COOKBOOK name...strictly IRISH in every way. If enough interest is shown, they will reprint the O'Cookbook, would have to have about 75 orders to reprint though.

Dougherty-Daugherty Reunion

The 5th Annual Monroe Co. Ohio Dougherty-Daugherty Reunion was held Saturday, July 28, 1984 at the Monroe County fairgrounds, Woodsfield with 170 in attendance. Our day began at 9:00 a.m. Carolyn Zogg Wolf, president of the Monroe County Historical Society opened the Museum from 9:00 a.m. until noon for anyone to visit.

Our Program: Welcome - Mrs. Ruth Dougherty Hogue, President. Pledge of Allegiance by Beth Plum; Flag holder, Matthew Plum; Invocation prayer by Emerson Cox of Woodsfield. After a 1:00 dinner Carolyn Zogg Wolf spoke to us about the Parry Museum and its genealogy library. Patric Dougherty of Attica, MI spoke briefly on the International

O Dochartaigh Reunion to be held in Donegal and Derry, Ireland in 1985. Kathryn Cox Matthews brought the old bible used by Daniel and Sarah Malsy Dougherty in Ireland and a hammer used by Daniel and family. A moment of silent prayer in memory of deceased family members! Dean E. Cline, Wellington, Ohio. Lawrence Dougherty, Bridgeport; Elmer Taylor, husband of Mina Ricer Taylor, Woodsfield; David D. Crawford, Barnesville; Forrest Ray Culverhouse, husband of Lillian Custer Culverhouse, Canton; Sara Polen Jeffers, Beallsville; Bonnie Stine Lollathin, Garry Lollathin and Diana Lynn Lollathin, Antioch; Delores Dougherty Long, Toronto; Lawrence R. Litten, Woodsfield; Anthony J. Paulette, husband of Marcilla Baker Paulette, Bergholtz; Dortra (Dot) Dougherty Zerkle of Orlando, Florida.

The present officers - Ruth Hogue, Woodsfield, President; Carolyn Hogue Livorno, Fariborn, Ohio, Vice-pres.; Lillian Dougherty Plum - Parkersburg, WV, Treasurer and Rita Bone Kopp, Secretary of Ashland, consented to serve for the year 1984-85.

The Dougherty-Daugherty O'Cookbook is now available at $5.00 p.p.

A white elephant sale was held to benefit the Dougherty family Cemetery fund. Everyone enjoyed this so much we are planning another for next year's reunion. Ken Petty did a great job as auctioneer.

Gifts were presented to: Emma Nally, age 89, oldest woman present; Art Burkhard, age 84, oldest man present; Jane Lee Jones, Woman coming the farthest of Anchorage Alaska; Man coming the furthest, Mike Malone of San Francisco California. The youngest child present was Caroline Kindall, age 2 months.

Plans are to have next years reunion on Saturday, July 27, 1985 at the same place. The Roots and Newsletter will keep everyone informed.

Those attending the reunion were: From Ohio - Canton - Luke & Elsie Malone, Ellis & Deloris Moore, Bob & Kathryn Matthews.

Even though your President, Cousin Pat, has just retired he, at this time, is running behind in answering your mail. His past 10 days looked like this: 2 days in Eastern Ohio on association and Inch business; 2 days in Canada on association business. Here, he was given a big send off by the Daughartys of St. Thomas area. Many thanks to Marg and Stan for your hospitality. He spent 3 days on mail replies and 3 days on this Newsletter. Be Patient members, the mail will be caught up with before he leaves for the Old Sod, late April.*

"THE CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA"

Many were the O'Dochartaigh that fought in this Civil War. Some of our Clan found themselves in uniform a few months upon landing here from Ireland.

There were Irish Brigades on both sides of this conflict. One of our family involved in this war was John Quincy Daugherty. He served in the Texas Calvary as a Lieutenant was captured in 1863 but did escape. He later organized a troop of rangers, was selected captain and saw action in Texas and Arizona.

As a Sheriff of Uvalde County, he gave his life in the line of duty. This occurred on March 18, 1865 in a gun battle against several desperados.

From John Quincy and his wife Sarah Pickett, (John was born in Morgan Co., Tenn. in 1827), we find his great grandson now residing in Alpine, Texas. Frank W. Daugherty was born in Alpine. He married Dorothy Cotton in 1945. Their 3 children are Sheila, Stephen and Diana.

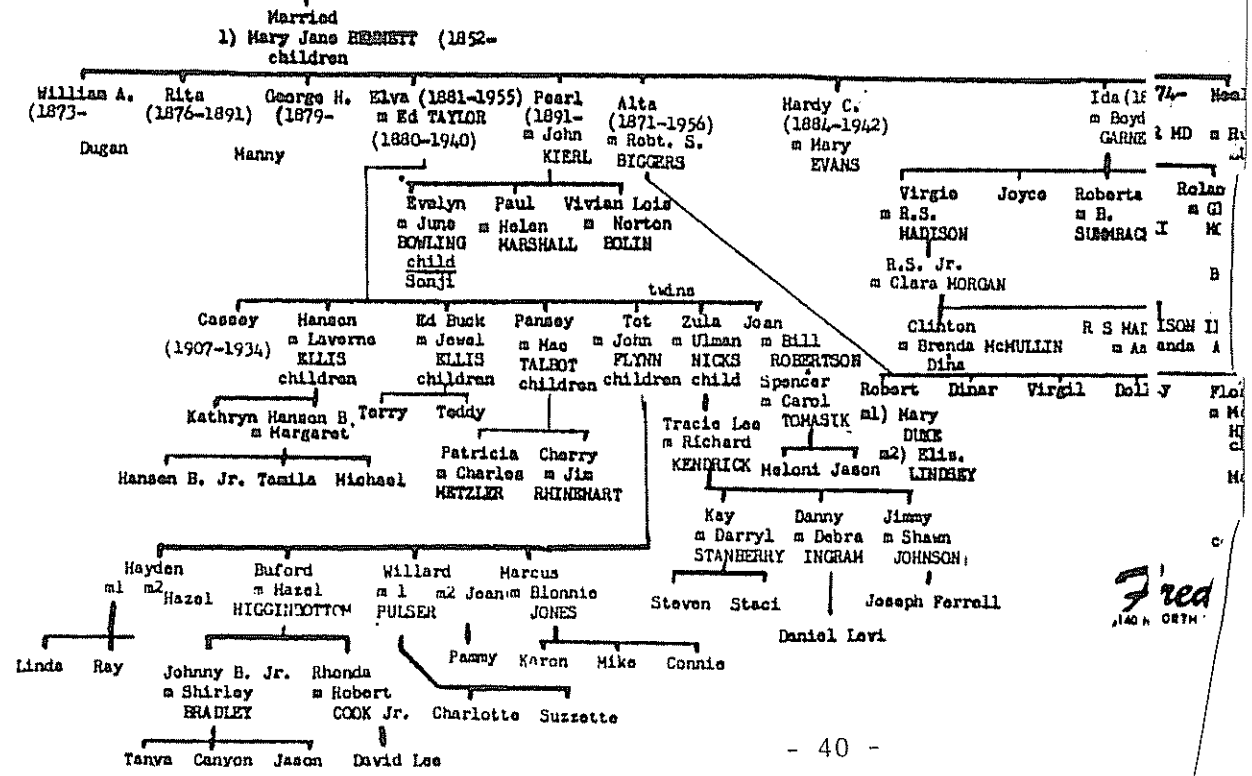

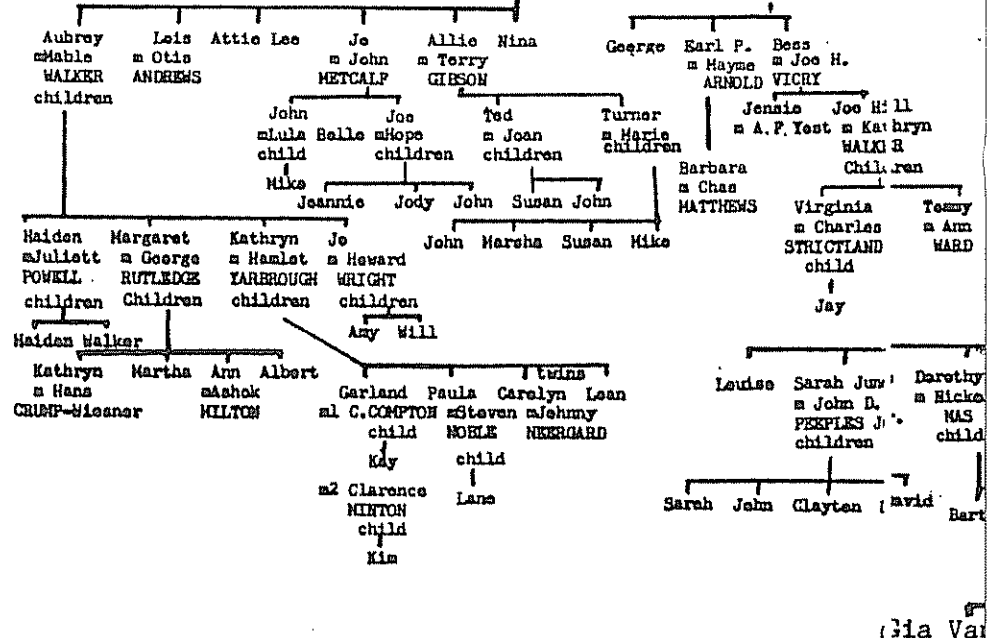

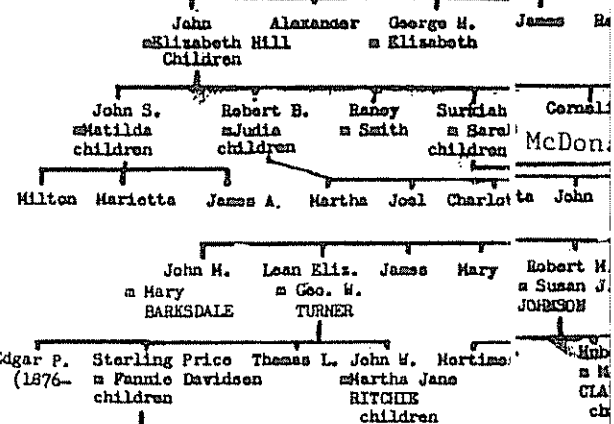

Frank has a PhD in Geology and has spent 30 of his working years as a geologist. Many years he was a Professor at West Texas State University and an owner/operator of a fluorspar mine. During this time, Frank's wife, Dorothy received a Master of Science in accounting and taught for 10 years at West Texas State also.

Frank is presently improving his 3 generation cattle ranch in Alpine. He is also busy researching his family line and promises to see us all in Donegal.

Speaking of Texas and the Texas reputation, we have heard rumors that Jackson Daugherty, another Texan, may be organizing a Texas Style Bar-B-Q for the Darry, Donegal Committee. This will be held on Inch Isle at the North American Headquarters.

DAUGHTER

1809 land deed to Cornelious Daugherty by John Sevier in OVERTON COUNTY, TENNESSEE, 1813 land deeded to John Daugherty by Wm. Care Storey.
 1832 two tracts of 100 acres each of Grant # 228 deeded to Elisabeth Daugherty. It was original grant of Alfred C. Sevier and Samuel W. Windle conveyed to John Sevier to Robert Hill.
 1839 land deeded to Harden W. Smith by John S. Daugherty and Surkiah Daugherty for $1400 2 Sept. 1858 Surkiah Daugherty gave power of attorney to John Sevier.
 THE DAUGHERTY'S, THE ARMSTRONGS, THE SEVIER'S AND THE TURNERS WERE ALL RELATED IN OVERTON COUNTY TENNESSEE.
 10 Aug. 1861 Surkiah Daugherty killed in The Battle of Wilson's Creek civil war battle near Springfield, Mo.
 His son-in-law, George Washington Turner also fought in that battle.
 THE DAUGHERTY'S MIGRATED FROM OVERTON COUNTY TENNESSEE TO DEWITT COUNTY MISSOURI THEN TO SHARP COUNTY ARKANSAS.

DAUGHERTY originated in Baron of Raphoe County, Donegal. The chiefs extended the territory until it became Lords of Inishowen in Fourteenth century. In 1608 it was reduced in ill-fated Rebellion of Sir Cahir Daugherty (O'Daugherty)

DAUGHERTY - Patronymical in origin, meaning grandson of Dochartach. (unfortunate)

IRELAND TO AMERICA

We know not when our first Daughtry ancestors landed in America, nor to what port, nor specifically what motivated them to come. The "colonization" of America came about and developed no doubt because it was a new world, offering untold opportunities for a better way of life. To some it offered escape from religious or economic persecution of slavery; to others escape from starvation or sheer adventure.

It appears likely that our Daughtry forbears came first to Pennsylvania, down the Shenandoah Valley to settle in Virginia, some coming on to North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and later on into Texas. This trek coincides with that of the migratory patterns of the Irish and Scot-Irish in the South. Of course, there were continuing arrivals of Irish immigrants over a long span of years from the early 1600's until the deluge following the potato famine ca. 1845-1851.

There is no value in listing them here, but we found in our research a multitude of notes from land records, marriage records, church records, etc. of Daughtrys (with name variations) beginning in the early 1600's. A few of these include: Thomas Daughtrie and wife in Flourdrin Hundred in Virginia, 1619-23; John and James Daughtrie in Isle of Wight, Virginia; a number of Daughtrys in Nansemond County, Virginia through the early 1700's; a Bertie, Northampton, Sampson and Duplin Counties, North Carolina throughout the 1700's.

As mentioned elsewhere, we found in Sampson County, North Carolina a certifiable colony of Daughtrys who continue living there on lands granted to their ancestors over two hundred years ago.

Revolutionary War records reveal the fact that a number of Daughtrys (and variant spellings) served as valiant soldiers and patriots in the war for independence of their new country, America.

THE SOUTH

We find the first records of our Daughtry ancestors in Effingham, Screven, Bulloch and Emanuel Counties, Georgia, beginning ca. 1791. It appears highly probable that at least some of them came from Sampson and Duplin Counties, North Carolina and we know they settled in this area; some on the Ogeechee River and its tributaries, and some on the Fifteen Mile Creek. Some of these lands, granted under Headright and Bounty laws, and later, land "won" in the Georgia land lotteries, are to this day in possession of and being farmed by descendants of our Daughtry pioneers.

In this connection, tradition has it that one John Daughtry received an English Crown grant of over 2000 acres in the vicinity of Fifteen Mile Creek in present Candler County. An exhaustive search of Georgia's original land grant records by the Surveyor General Department, Georgia Department of Archives and History, failed to locate any such grant to John Daughtry (or variant spellings). This search was made in 1981.

THE JOHN DAUGHTRY FAMILY

In compiling our (Daughtry) family history, we initially intended to confine it very closely to "our" spelling, with slight variants, thinking the Dougherty and Daugharty families were really not close "kins-folk", but we soon learned to be not so sure of this. Therefore, we became intrigued with the Daughtrys when we bumped into them living just across 15 Mile Creek in Bulloch County in early 1800's. Our ancestor (Jacob Daughtry) and his children were on the Emanuel County side of the creek (the creek was the line.) The Daughtry family soon left, but the fact they were there prompted much conjecture as to possible inter-family relationships and resulted in considerable research of the idea.

We have made considerable effort to document the story of the earliest Daughtrys, but there are very few 'tracks'. We have therefore had to rely largely, and with respect to the more contemporary descendants, almost completely on information from contributors. No doubt a few inadvertent errors, and many omissions will be detected. We invite any corrections or additions.

It seems likely that he came as a child (John Daughtry) or was born to family of Daughtrys who immigrated to the South Carolina colony in the early 1700's coming from Ireland as Protestant refugees or indentured persons seeking opportunity and freedom to make a new and better life for themselves. There are numerous records available including printed lists of immigrants, in which some Daughtry names appear, however, these lists are by no means complete, especially as regards passengers prior to about 1800.

This ancestor is believed to have been an adult and in the Camden, S. C. area by 1759, as we find that one John Doughaty (or Dougherty) "served as a private in the Cherokee War (1759-60) under Col. Richard Richardson whose men were mainly from old Camden District of Craven County, and some men from the Western area of Williamsburg County".

We do find the will of one John Dougherty, signed by him 1 February 1788; in Richland County, S. Carolina, and filed for probate in February 1795 in Kershaw County, Camden District, S. Carolina. John Dougherty's will named his wife Judith, sons John, Dennis and Samuel and daughters Margaret (Perry) and Mary (Dukes) as beneficiaries. The estate documents as well as the will itself shows his name variously as Doherty, Dougharty, and Dougherty.

This John Daugharty as shown by his will, therefore was father of another John as well as Samuel, Dennis, and two daughters, Margaret and Mary. We find records of land grants to John Daugharty in South Carolina as follows (and there are others):

3 April 1764: Colonial (Crown) grant of 100 acres on Wateree River, Craven County, S.C. (Ret; Royal Land Grants, Vol. VII, p82, S.C. State Archives, Columbia).

19 March 1773: Colonial (Crown) grant of 100 acres in Camden District on Rise Creek and the Twenty-Five Mile Creek (Ref: Royal Land Grants, Vol 28, p486, S. C. State Archives, Columbia).

We find at least two records of Revolutionary War service in the South Carolina militia, one for a John Dougherty, and one for a John Dougharty. It is difficult-nay, impossible to be certain; however we believe that one is for service of the father and the other for the son John.

1817 - again John Daugharty appears on the Tattall tax digest, with the same 200 acres from a 'Sikes', and the other a 300 acre tract which came from 'Daugharty'. Most likely the 300 acres is that granted John originally in Montgomery County.

THE JOHN DAUGHARTY FAMILY cont'd.

Record of a marriage in Montgomery, GA. County on 19 May 1810, of one John Doughtry and Lettiss Cooks, and the fact that John is believed to have been living in this County at that time. We do not find record of another John D. anywhere in the area. Neither do we find subsequent record of a Lettiss Doughtry or Daugharty.

On the 1850 Carroll County census (very close to Monroe County) we find:

Dennis Dougherty, age 37, farmer (b. 1813 Georgia)
Eleanor age 37
Frances age 14
Charles age 12
Robert A. age 10
age 5

The most valuable sources of information about the children (Dempsey, Daniel and Dennis) of John Daugharty have been the family charts and letters from his descendants, two or three sketches in Folks Huxford's "Pioneers of Wiregrass Georgia", and census data. Dempsey Daugharty (John2, John1) born ca. 1777 in South Carolina, died ca. 1848-50 in Hamilton or Columbia County, Florida, married Mary (Mollie) Pierce (or Pearce) born ca. 1780, died ca. 1861. Dempsey Daugharty is believed to have moved from South Carolina to the Effingham/Screven County, Georgia area about 1794, and was either already married or married shortly after their arrival in Georgia.

1820: The Appling County (Ga) census shows:
Dancy Dortrey as head of household, male, age 27-45 (b. ca 1777)
1 male under 10
1 male 16-18
1 male 19-26
1 female 27-45
1 female 17-26
1830: The Ware County census shows Dempsey Daugharty as head of the household, age 50-60 (b. ca. 1777) and

1 male 10-15
1 male 15-20
1 female 30-40
If the census age of the female is correct, a question arises as to where Dempsey's wife Mary was, as she was older, and if there is one age 30-40, who is she?
ca. 1840: moved to Florida, where he spent his last years in Hamilton and Columbia County, dying there about 1848-1850.

Dempsey Daugharty was a remarkable man in his time, if we are to believe what we read and hear about him. In the section "Our Column in History", a feature of the Clinch County News, Homerville, Georgia, issue of 8 January 1932, is found the following account of this family.

"We are informed that Dempsey Daugharty was the first of his name in the country--that he came from Ireland. Better known as "Demp's" Daugharty, he was known throughout this section as much of a man, physically, and was the champion in many community fights nowadays taken place by boxing.

HENRY DAUGHTREY

We were able to learn very little of this family to add to the sketch by Judge Folks Huxford in his "Pioneers of Wiregrass Georgia", Volume I, pages 63-64, but feel it important to present this family genealogy with full credit to Huxford, with the hope that doing so will attract attention of descendants and bring more of their story to light:

"Henry Daughtrey, ancestor of a large family connection of Lanier and adjoining counties, was born in Tenn., 4-23-1810 while his parents were enroute moving from NC to Tenn. He was married in Tenn. about 1840 to Miss Rhoda Curry, dau of Isaac Curry. Missing Link**

Paul F. Dougherty, 5851 Pierwood Dr., St. Louis, MO 63129 seeks info on John Bell Dougherty who was brother of William Dougherty. They were from Pennsylvania. John Bell reported in U.S. Army accompanied Gen'l. Winfield Scott to Mexico City. Nothing further is known about him. This would have been somewhat before Civil War. If you have any tie with William or John Bell, which takes us back to approx. 1836, would appreciate hearing from you. My data rec'd from Columban Fathers many years ago.

Doherty Stove Works

Thomas son of James and Alice Garrett Doherty was born in Perth in Lanark County of Ontario in 1843. He came with his parents to Uttonexter in Lambton County where they farmed for several years. They named the Post Office Uttonexter after their home in England in the year 1866. He opened a machine shop in Watford where he and his sons built first threshing machine and made drum sticks. In 1877 Thomas was farming Con 8 lot 24 Plympton Two. Lambton County. In 1882 he moved to Sarnia and opened a stove works and began manufacturing stoves. Mr. Thomas Montgomery who had been employed by Goddison Thresher Co. joined Thomas and built the first car in Sarnia. It was wound up like a clock and had to be rewound each time it ran down. Later they built what is believed to be the first gasoline operated car in Canada. A young man named Henry Ford came to Sarnia to examine their creation. In 1897, Mr. Montgomery left Doherty's and joined Imperial Oil Co. Mr. Doherty developed a method for making carbon steel and went to England and sold the patent there. The stove works continued till it closed in 1946.

Thomas married Elizabeth Brownand they had the following children James, Ada, Grace, John, William Lorne, Alice Elizabeth, Jenny and Phoebe. Thomas died Sept. 6, 1916 at Sarnia at age 73.

DAUGHARTY

William Daugharty was born in Ross Grey County, Tipperary Ireland. When he was 18 years old he went to England and learned the trade of shoemaker. He enlisted in the British Army and fought under Lord Nelson in the Battle of Trafalgar (Oct. 21, 1805). He emigrated to Canada at the expiration of his term of service, locating in Montreal and engaged in the boot and shoe business. He later moved to the Township of Osnabruck, County of Stormont in Ontario Canada where he settled on land granted by the British Government by virtue of his service in the Army. He died by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a friend. William married Hannah McNeil of McNeils Ferry, Vermont, U.S.A. and had a son James born in 1785 and died March 19, 1872.

James J. Daugharty was born April 10, 1785 (?) in Montreal, Quebec and married Catharina Empey on February 25, 1812 at Osnabruck Twp., Stormont County. James engaged in farming, lumbering and milling. He served in Ridge's Light Brigade during the war of 1812 and spent the last years of his life with his son Gordon Alexander Daugharty. James and Catherina had 18 children of which seven reached maturity. They are: Catherine Eliza b. Oct. 9, 1812; James William b. Aug. 1, 1814; Edwin J. B. ?; Johiohl b. Oct. 23, 1826; Gordon Alexander b. June 5, 1830; Diana b. c 1834; Pembroke b. Feb. 19, 1833. Gordon Alexander or Alexander Gordon Daugharty was educated at Madison University, N. Y. graduating with degree of A.B. with class of 1857, and in 1859 took degree of A. M. at the same University. The same year he was ordained to the ministry (Baptist) of Ogdensburg, N. Y. and for about seventeen years was in active ministerial work. Fourteen years of this time being spent in Canada, six years at Leamington, Ontario. Since he retired in 1876 he has preached on several occasions. Gordon A. married Emma Jane Spencer of County Huntington, on September 3, 1861 at Fort Covington, N. Y. They were the parents of five children.

The descendants of William A. Dougherty, John A. Dougherty and Mary Ann Warfel hold an annual reunion in the vicinity of Hidalgo, Illinois. The names of the siblings of Edward and Sarah Dougherty were contained in some old minutes, sent by Mrs. John A. Dougherty. (John is the grandson of William A.)

William Edward Dougherty, Irish descent, married Sarah Smith of Dutch origin and lived in Pennsylvania and had the following family:

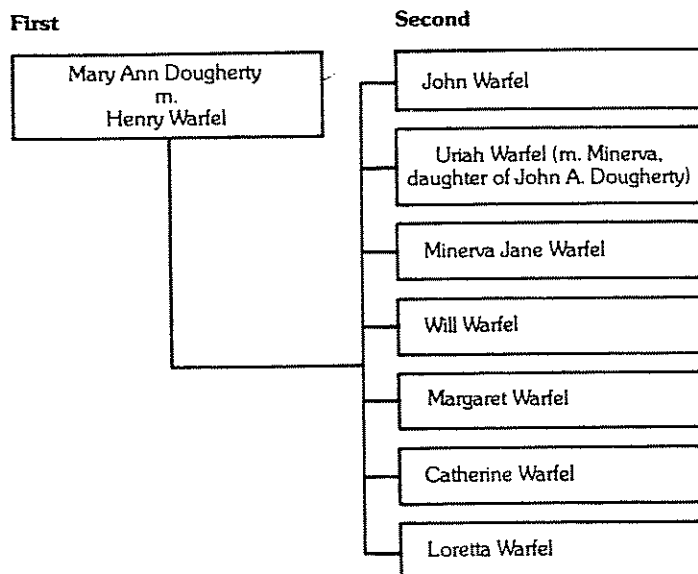

1. Mary Ann Dougherty married Henry Warfel, Rose Hill, Illinois
2. John A. Dougherty, Lis, Illinois
3. Adam S. Dougherty, Indiana
4. William A. Dougherty, Hidalgo, Illinois
5. James Dougherty, Pennsylvania
6. Sarah Dougherty unmarried, Pennsylvania (other records show her name as Sarah H.)
7. Catherine Steffer, Linesville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania (Steffey or Steffee)
8. Henry Dougherty, Pennsylvania

Lis and Rose Hill are both within 5 miles of Newton, Illinois. A notation under the names read "The grandparents lived to be quite old, he having cut cord wood to support the family at 80 years old".

The following statistics have been researched and proven:

THE O'DOUGHTERY'S
"VIGOR, OUR HERITAGE"

The personification of the family coat of arms, "Vigor our Heritage", lives in the song and story in County Donegal, Ireland, from where the O'Dougherty clan migrated to America. The descendants of the Dougherty's stand 15th in the list of the commonest surnames in Ireland.

In early 1800's, the O'Dougherty clan came to America. Some of the family stayed in Boston, Mass.; while the more adventurous ones came by way of New Orleans, up the Mississippi River to Natchitoches, Louisiana, to an established Irish settlement known as French Creole.

James J. Dougherty was born October 13, 1857, here. His father had dropped the 'O', being known then as plain Dougherty.

It was here James J. Dougherty received his early education. He was an excellent student and through out his life time he was an avid reader. He was gifted with a photographic mind. He enrolled in Valparaiso University, Indiana, where he received a teacher's certificate. Perhaps it was here he developed his talent for expressing himself colorfully and most intelligently on the politics of the day - which enjoyment he never lost in his lifetime.

Margaret Kelleher was born in Allamakee county, Iowa, October 13, 1859, where she grew to womanhood. July 19, 1881, she married James J. Dougherty and the following year July 27, 1882, they moved to Park River, North Dakota. That year J. J. Dougherty became the first school teacher in Lawrence, North Dakota. He traveled by horse-back receiving $35.00 a month as his salary - a small wage to keep a wife and home.

In 1883, they moved to Grand Forks, North Dakota, where James J. Dougherty worked for Stephen Collins who was in the coal and lumber business. The following year, he came back to Park River, North Dakota, where he was associated with McManis and Dougherty Company (partners) - a farm implement business serving Park River, Conway, Edinburg, and Melton, North Dakota.

In 1907, he organized the N. W. Machinery Company and the McManis-Dougherty West Line of Elevators in Saskatchewan, Canada.

J. J. Dougherty was known as a real estate tycoon. It was said that you could walk west of Park River to Rugby, North Dakota, and not put foot on any land that wasn't Jim Dougherty's.

He acquired large holdings in the Swift Current, Canada area, including elevators and a large general store. This enterprise was destroyed by fire at a loss of a half million dollars. His land in Kansas never brought in an oil well, or was in his lifetime - another disappointment of J. J.

J. J. Dougherty was one of four to organize the Implement Dealers Mutual Fire Insurance Company where he served as director for 20 years.

J. J. Dougherty never lost his keen interest in politics. He was affiliated with the Democratic Party. In 1897 to 1899, he served in the State Legislature for two terms - a real exciting and wheeling and dealing period in the State.

He was elected as Mayor of Park River for four terms. He served on the school board for several years. He was appointed Postmaster of Park River by President Wilson, serving eight years.

He provided his family with much of the worldly goods such as a racing horse named Florence, ponies for his children's enjoyment, pets, dancing, painting, and music lessons, traveling, higher education, and fast cars. He was a stern disciplinarian - his motto: "Spare the rod, spoil the child".

Their beautifully appointed home saw many happy times. This home, in the name of progress, was torn down in 1975 to be replaced by the Metropolitan Savings and Loan Building. This winter experienced a very heavy heat seeing that house demolished.

Through J. J. Dougherty's help and assistance, Mrs. Dougherty's relatives - the Kenigs, O'Briens and Kellehers - were brought to Park River in 1902 from Iowa. They too established themselves in the Park River vicinity - raised their families and became respected useful citizens.

The obituary of Mrs. James J. Dougherty (Margaret Kelleher) reads - "In the death of Mrs. Dougherty, Park River has lost a good and useful citizen who was univ-sally loved". We wholeheartedly agree that in the death of this beautiful pioneer - a well known and highly respected lady - the community had indeed lost a valuable Citizen.

Her talents were varied. She was a fastidious home-maker and a lover of all things beautiful. Her hand painted china and oils are cherished possessions in our home. Her needlework was another of her excellent accomplishments. What an apple she could bake! It was a work of art as well as delectable.

Socially, she was a leader. She was an early bridge enthusiast and usually there was a bridge game going daily. She cherished her charter membership in the American Legion Auxiliary, whose eligibility she gained through her youngest son Walter's war record. She was faithful in her activities in her church, which brought her much joy and comfort.

Four sons and one daughter were brought into this union: John, Emmett, Florence, Harold and Walter.

John received his early education in Park River, attended Georgetown University, at Washington, D.C., where he articulated in law. He held the world's record in sprinting. This record is posted in the halls of Georgetown University. From here he attended the University of Minnesota. He married Julie Grace of Graffton, a social event, and they left immediately following their marriage for Swift Current, Canada, in 1909, to run the J. J. Dougherty business there.

Two children - Margaret (Mrs. Fering) of Monetteville, Iowa, and T. E. Dougherty, Waterloo, Iowa, were born in Swift Current. A son Jim, born in Waterloo, Iowa, died at seven years of age and is buried in Waterloo. John and Julia are also buried there.

There are six grandchildren and seven great grandchildren in this family.
Emmett, a graduate of Park River High School, attended Notre Dame at South Bend, Indiana. He, too, studied law, but never practiced it 'per se'. His career was in business. He married Esther Wells of Chicago, Illinois. One son, James Emmett, Jr., was born to this union. Both James Emmet, Sr. and James Emmett, Jr. are buried in-Chicago. James Emmett, Jr. left one son, James Emmett the III who lives in Chicago.

He has one son, James Emmett the IV, living in Chicago.

Estor Weiss Dougherty lives in Chicago Heights, Illinois, enjoying her grandchild and great grandchild.

Florence Dougherty, after finishing high school in Park River, enrolled at St.
Katharines in Minneapolis. She spent one year here transferring to the North Dakota University where she received a teacher's certificate. Her teaching career was short lived for soon she married Clement O'Brien (Pat) who was a cashier in Farmers Security Bank of Park River. Five children were born to this union: Jean (Mrs. Jack Strouts) of Font Wayne, Indiana; Walter of Alaska (now deceased); Pat of Minneapolis, who married Lydia Larson of Park River (daughter of Lars Larson); Nancy (Mrs. Jim Balcom) and Mary Ann, who married Lee Johnson of Carroll, Iowa, were born in Minneapolis, where Clement O'Brien had been transferred to the First Bank Corporation of Minneapolis. Later he owned and operated a hardware store in South Minneapolis. There are twenty-six grandchildren to brighten this union.

Both Clement and Florence, his wife, are buried in the Dougherty plot in the Calvary Cemetery of Park River.

Harold received his early education in Park River. He attended a business college in Grand Forks, coming back after his graduation to work in the Park River Roller Mill as bookkeeper. He worked here until it was destroyed by fire. From here he worked as bookkeeper in the Williston Roller Mill for many years. This too was destroyed by fire.
He returned to Park River with his wife and family, worked for the Standard Oil Company until his retirement, and lived in the J. J. Dougherty residence until Mabel and Harold's death. He served as mayor of Park River, like his father, ~~and~~ married Mabel Laxdal of Cavalier. They had three children: Dan, Betty and Donna. Four grandchildren blessed this happy union. Betty chose a career in the Military, receiving many honors and promotions. Donna (Mrs. Burney Cook) lives in Minneapolis. She is happily employed by the Girl Scouts. Dan has made a successful career for himself with Zenith Corporation, as vice president. He and his wife Donna live in Northfield, Illinois, with three of their children.

Walter, the youngest son of Jim and Margaret Dougherty's family biographies will appear as a separate entry.

Throughout this interesting research, we note that "Vigor, our Heritage" has been carried on into the second and third generations with aplomb:

"By the dark eye that's blended of midnight and fire
And the bearing and stature so princely and tall
See rather you'll know in the midst of them all."

"KENTUCKY ACTION"

The Doughertys are shaking their historical trees and roots in beautiful Kentucky. Just a mile and a half below Danville, a marker will be placed at the site of Dougherty's Station. This lies on Clark's Run near Logan's Creek. This group of O'Dochartaighs holds annual reunions and are very active in research. Ruth Dougherty Browning of Louisville keeps us up-to-date on the activities of our Kentucky Cousins. We hope some materials in this Newsletter will help tie their families together.

JOHN E. DOUGHERTY
 NEW CASTLE, DELAWARE

Our sincere thanks, Jack, for your many contributions to our association and to the success of our reunion. You have published articles on our Clan and especially the up-coming reunion that have appeared all over the U.S. They have awakened many of our Clan to the Grand Gathering.

At Headquarters, we receive dozens of letters each week that are the result of this great publicity. Your efforts on the East Coast for the Irish and the Clan cause are appreciated by all of us. We are looking forward to visiting with you and Bonnie in Ireland. We understand you are showing up with around 50 relatives. Thanks, Jack and Bonnie

NEW WORKS BY AND ON CELIUS DOUGHERTY

Celias Dougherty, one of America's most published composers of art song, has attracted more than his usual share of attention recently. A large collection of his art songs and a film portrait of their maker have just been released.

LAST AND FIRST SONGS OF CELIUS DOUGHERTY includes fifty-four previously unpublished works. Among them are cycles of poems by Amy Lowell, Walt Whitman, e.e. cummings and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, a group of American folk song duets and a parody of critical reviews consisting of excerpts from actual newspaper reviews.

"DOUGHERTY AND RUZICKA" is a half hour film portrait of Dougherty and his duo-piano partner Vincenz Ruzicka. Until Ruzicka's death this December, the two had been together ever since their highly acclaimed performance of Stravinsky's Concerto launched a worldwide concert career in 1939. The film weaves together duo-performances, paintings by Ruzicka, performances of Dougherty songs and commentary by the pair in and around their home in the Poconos.

The song anthology is really misnamed for it contains neither the last nor the first of Dougherty's work. He continues to compose and, characteristically, he destroyed his first songs before anyone else saw them, as he relates below.

My very first attempt at writing was when I was twelve. My brother Francis was fighting in France and I had terrible nightmares about the War (WWI). I was going to write an opera. I called it "War and Peace". It lasted ten minutes. I kept it a secret and hid it. One night I forgot to hide it. The next morning I found it on the piano stand and thought my family had seen it. I took it, tore it up and buried it outside.

Seventy years later it was a family member who dug up the songs in the new collection. His grandnephew, Park Dougherty asked if there were any more songs suitable for publication. "Four or five, maybe," the composer replied.

"Knowing how difficult it is for Celias to blow his own horn," the younger Dougherty says, "I figured there could be ten times that number, so I kept after him and he kept digging out more manuscripts. Many are still buried."

Such reticence is a hallmark of Dougherty's work as a composer, accompanist and duo-pianist, and it makes the release of so much material by and about this eminent artist all the more unusual and interesting. It also presented challenges according to his grandnephew, who directed the film.

"How do you interview a composer who maintains, 'what one says about a song might help, but I can't think how.'? One solution was to inquire into the poetry itself." Asked about his cycle from "Whispers of Heavenly Death", he said:

I sat the Whittan poem because I admired his belief that the soul of man is just at the beginning of its voyage and death is just the entrance to another world. I wished that I believed it and hoped that by working on them I might be swayed to it. It didn't work.

I wrote them only for myself. I just wanted to find out where I stood in connection with those words.

What I love best about composing is finding music that expresses what words say. When you succeed and get exactly what you wanted, that sensation is very exciting. There's nothing like it. Maybe one thinks that will happen again.

The film combines comments like these with performances of three songs by mezzo-soprano, Nancy Willens, accompanied by the composer. It also traces the development of his artistic career as an accompanist. At age ten, he was accompanying his mother in public. By twenty he was playing for the greatest voices of America and Europe.

Throughout the 1920's and 1930's Dougherty was New York's leading piano accompanist. Among others, he played for Alexander Kipnie, Povia Frijsh, Eva Gauthier, Richard Crooks, Florence Easton, Edward Johnson and Grete Stueckgold. Oftentimes they performed songs he had written.

During these years he studied composition with Rubin Goldmark and piano with Josef Lhevinne on a scholarship from The Juilliard Foundation. There he met another of Lhevinne's students, Vincenz Ruzicka, who was a vociferous champion of modern music. At that time there was a proliferation of modern music for two pianos. This was the beginning of The Golden Age of Two Pianos, in which the pair would play a leading role.

When Stravinsky's "Concerto for Two Pianos Without Orchestra" appeared, Dougherty and Ruzicka practiced it for four years then gave its premiere at their debut recital in 1939. This performance was very well received and began a long concert career, which saw the pair premiere works by Hindemith, Berg, Schoenberg, Rieti, Dougherty, and two by Stravinsky. They played in every state of the union and were featured performers with the Vienna Symphony in Vienna in 1955.

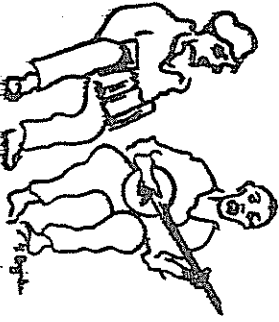

Vienna was the zenith and the end of their sixteen year duo-piano concert career. These busy years had also been Dougherty's a most productive as a composer. During that he had written a duo-piano sonata from sea chanties, ten arrangements for two pianos, and sixty art songs.

Shortly afterward Dougherty and Ruzicka left New York for the Poconos. It is there that the film crew found them in 1981. Both in their eighties, they were still playing duo pieces, Dougherty was still writing songs and Ruzicka was still painting, which he began in the forties. The film shows them in their home, garden and studio providing background on selected works which are then presented on the screen.

Lilt of the Irish

The English language brings out the best in the Irish. They court it like a beautiful woman. They make it bray with donkey laughter. They hurl it at the sky like a paint pot full of rainbows, and then make it chant a dirge for man's fate and man's follies that is as mournful as misty spring rain crying over the fallow earth. Rarely has a people paid the lavish compliment and taken the subtle revenge of turning its oppressor's speech into sorcery.

If ...

If you could see your ancestors, all standing in a row,
 Would you be proud of them, or don't you really know?
 Some strange discoveries are made in climbing family trees.
 And some of them, you know, do not particularly please.

If you could see your ancestors, all standing in a row,
 There might be some of them, perhaps, you wouldn't care to know.
 But there's another question which requires a different view.
 If you could meet your ancestors, would they be proud of you?

 HEADQUARTERS IS MOVING *****

We have accomplished an unheard of objective. We are 5/8th of the way toward actually purchasing the Irish Manor Home in the land of your origin.

For what purpose:

1. Genealogy Research
2. Guest House
3. Horticulture Show Place
4. Meeting Place
5. Cultural Center

We hope you have a pleasant stay

The final payment is due August 1, 1985. We are also faced with furnishing this Manor Home. If President Pat can scrape up some extra funds after making the April 30th payment, there may be some furniture there for reunion time.

Remember the Open House dates. If I am gone to some festivities, go in and tour the premises, inside and out. It's yours to take pride in, it's yours to make suggestions on, it's yours to treasure.

INCH ISLAND - ONLY AN INCH?? WELL, ITS A START!!

Please note: The earlier supplemental Newsletter was the first attempt for headquarters to send out dues notices.

I am sure you are all aware of postage cost. Printing Costs are also very high. We do not pay for labor; I cover all costs on that. The dues for 1985 are $10. Some of our members have fallen behind a year or so. Please attempt to catch up to keep our heads "above water". If all arrears could be made up before I leave for Ireland, we could pay for this Newsletter which will cost $1200 to print and mail. This will be the last Newsletter for people more than one year in arrears. Be on our mailing list for the post-reunion Newsletter, it will be the greatest!

President Pat

.....FILLED WITH PRIDE ARE WE.....Indeed we are, as we salute Mr. Seamus O'Doherty. We salute him for his dedication to the Irish cause, his leadership in many East Coast Irish organizations and for his many contributions to this Newsletter and to our files.

Seamus lives in the Bronx, N.Y. at 1261 Pawnee Place. We shall meet him in Ireland this summer.

GIFTS IN IRELAND

There are many excellent craft, gift, clothing and etc. complexes in Donegal and Derry to satisfy your every wish. Many of them are owned and operated by Clan Members. Look for a welcoming smile and concern for your needs.

THANKS B. F.....

Our appreciation to Bernard F. Dougherty for his Christmas gift to members of our association. He contacted newspapers all over the U.S. that had geographical names found in our association. He informed them of our Clan, our goals and of the Grand Gathering.

Our best to Bernard and a sincere wish that we will meet him in Ireland. Thanks B. F.

NEWS UPDATE - PROGRESS CONTINUES ON INCH

Progress continues on the purchase of the Inch Manor House "Ar nDutcas".

We are above the $20,000 level towards our second payment.

Thus far we have named the three reception rooms on the main floor, "The Ohio Room", "The Rocky Mountain Room", and "The Michigan Room". These rooms were named by the members who purchased shares thus far. Canada is the latest in purchasing shares and the second floor entry room will be so called!

Now comes the challenge! Canada is well on its way towards decorating its room. A large flag will be hanging there, small flags, plates, plaques, pictures and souvenirs have been collected. This has been due to the efforts of Stan & Marge Daugharty of 15 Locust St., St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada. We also need sofa's, chairs, small tables and etc for this room.

Lewis Daugharty of 7454 E. Princeton, Denver, CO 80237 will be master minding the decor in their room. Any ideas, cash or paraphernalia will be appreciated. Our tentative plans for the Rocky Mountain Room are to use it as a dining area. We probably will equip it with square tables seating four, a salad table and some wheeled carts. How about wall murals picturing the Rockies, some of its state flags, wall plates, etc.

Now a challenge to the "Buckeyes"! The main reception room will be your state room. People entering the manor house will do so thru this large room. We need flags, pennants, wall displays, display tables, chairs, sofa's, etc. There is a lovely fireplace here to add to the charm. Can Ohio, with its large O'Dochartaigh membership, take over the decorating of this medieval room????

Is Michigan ready for a challenge? The present plans for this large room is to use it as an entertainment room, a meeting room, a multi-purpose area. It contains a fireplace, a sun room and the greenhouse abuts it to the south.

We hope to have this equipped with folding chairs, sofas, a table or two and book cases. We are in need of any of the above and decorative materials for the walls, tables and entrances. Any ideas members?

Headquarters will handle plans on the above rooms. Lets have the Michigan room fully equipped for the June and July Reunion. We have a large membership from Michigan and Michigan has made a large share of dollars available towards the purchase of "Ar nDutcas", in our ancestral land. Can we accomplish this? Headquarters can be reached at our Attica address or by phoning (313)-744-1106.

Another O'Dochartaigh Cookbook! Bertha Browder of 2101 Watkin Street, Chattanooga, TN 37404 has sent headquarters a delicious looking cookbook. It is available if you so wish. Bertha has been a member for many years. She dedicated her book to her mother Emma LouCindie Daughtrey. Betha has the book divided into nine different food areas. We hope to have some on display at "Ar nDutcas" on Inch Isle.

ASSISTANCE FOR MEMBERS IN RESERVING ACCOMMODATIONS IN IRELAND

We wish to be of any assistance we can for all of you over in Ireland. I have a long list of addresses available for Bed and Breakfast. I will be able to call them and reserve a room for you upon my arriving there in May. I need your name, number of beds and people, exact dates, desirable locations. Many of you have requested some help. I will pursue those requests.

Cousin Pat

WARNING**

HALBERT'S, INC., Heritage Travel, Bath, Ohio----We are in no way connected with the above travel agency. Our reunion is in "O'Dochartaigh" Country. Halbert's gathering never touches Derry or Donegal. Our reunion is June 16th to July 11th. Halbert's is organizing theirs in August. We are working very closely with the O'Dochartaigh Committees in Derry and Donegal. Halbert's are not working with them.

Halbert's are organizing a nice tour but are working with many Clan names.

HELP!!!! We have lost track of many members. Below is a list of people who have apparently moved. Can anyone help us locate them?

1. Joseph C. Doherty, Davison, MI 48423; 2. Howard Dougherty, Dallas, TX 75211; 3. Norbert F. Dougherty, Pittsburgh, PA 15232; 4. Steve Dougherty, Topeka, KS 66607; 5. Camaron R. Doherty, Cambridge, Ontario Canada; 6. Francis Doherty, West Warwick, RI 02893; 7. H. M. Doherty, West Warwick, RI 02893; 8. H. O. Doherty, West Warwick, RI 02893; 9.
